

WRECK; 40 DEAD, 40 HURT

HANGMAN'S NOOSE IS AWAITING THUGS

John Siemsen and Louis Dabner
on Trial.

(Special to THE TRIBUNE.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—The preliminary examination of John Siemsen and Louis Dabner, the latter of whom has confessed to being one of the gaspse murderers, and who implicated Siemsen in his confession, was begun before Police Judge Shortall this afternoon.

The charge against them in this case is the murder of M. Munakata, cashier of the Golden Gate bank on O'Farrell street. A huge crowd was present to watch the proceedings, and necks were craned from every corner of the courtroom when they were led in by a deputy sheriff.

It is practically certain, of course, that the men will be held to answer, and it is also very probable that the defense will introduce no testimony at the hearing.

The murder of Munakata is fresh in the public mind. The two men entered the bank at about the noon hour, when it was practically deserted, and, awaiting an opportune moment, assaulted the occupants of the bank, one of whom was Munakata.

He was dragged into a rear room, after being stunned by a first blow, and beaten so badly that he shortly afterwards succumbed.

ENGINE EXPLODES; THREE MEN DEAD

SAN JOSE, Nov. 12.—Three men were killed and several persons slightly injured by the explosion of the engine of the southbound Sunset Limited train on the Southern Pacific road at Sargent's station last night.

The dead: JOSEPH GOODFELLOW, superintendent of the Southern Pacific block system. SAMUEL GILLESPIE, engineer of train.

JAMES BLADON, fireman. The bodies of Goodfellow and Gillespie were picked up near the wreck, badly disfigured, having been almost blown into fragments. James Bladon, the fireman, was hurled sixty feet from the station, and although breathing faintly when found, he expired a few hours later. None of the passengers were seriously injured.

was seriously injured. was hurled into the station, which was being passed at the time, destroying that structure, and the huge boiler, weighing 100 tons, shot forward through the air, striking the track ahead more than 300 feet from the spot where the explosion occurred. The empty trucks continued at their fifty-miles-an-hour gait until the boiler was struck. This ponderous mass of steel served as a bumper for the swiftly on-rushing train of Pullman sleepers and tourist cars, and it was pushed forward through the gravel and ties for twenty feet more before the train came to a stop. The tender, mail car, chair car and two tourist sleepers were derailed, and some of the passengers were slightly shaken up, but the last six cars remained on the track without damage to them or injury to their occupants.

A panic followed the sudden stopping of the train, and it was with difficulty that women passengers were restrained from jumping headlong into the ditch. The track was cleared this morning.

DEATH VICTOR IN SHAFER'S LAST BATTLE

THE LATE GENERAL SHAFER.

Gallant War Hero Dead After Week's Illness of Pneumonia.

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 12.—Major-General William Rufus Shafter, U. S. A., retired, died at 12:45 p. m. today at the ranch of Captain W. H. McKittrick, his son-in-law, twenty miles south of this city, after an illness of seven days and despite the best medical attention in California.

While returning from the polls last Tuesday he contracted a severe chill, which augmented a slight indisposition and necessitated confinement to his bed. Dr. F. W. Mitchell, the local family physician, was at once summoned. The patient failed to improve and Dr. A. Schaffer was called for consultation. Intestinal obstruction was discovered, but it was determined that this was a secondary affliction brought on by an acute attack of pneumonia. Wednesday and Thursday no improvement was noticed, and Friday afternoon Dr. M. H. Herzstein of San Francisco was communicated with. Unable to depart at once, Dr. I. W. Thorne was dispatched in Dr. Herzstein's place.

Dr. Thorne arrived early Saturday morning, and together with the local physicians diligently watched the patient all that day. In the afternoon a slight rally was detected and relatives and physicians were extremely hopeful, but the change was short-lived. At 10 o'clock a striking spell struck the veteran. Dr. Herzstein arrived shortly after midnight Sunday morning and after being hurriedly driven to the General's side a consultation was held with the other physicians in attendance.

It is stated that Dr. Herzstein deemed an operation the only means of relief from the intestinal obstruction, but the condition of the patient would foretell nothing but fatal results in such an attempt. Dr. Herzstein, accompanied by Dr. Thorne, returned to San Francisco, all hope of saving the gallant war hero being abandoned. The patient was left in charge of Dr. Mitchell, and the battle against desperate odds continued through it all the veteran bore up bravely. Always cheerful and hopeful, his mind clear and cognizant of his critical condition, the patient remained conscious until 9 o'clock this morning. Pure oxygen, sent from San Francisco, performed

RUEF IS ACCUSED BY SAN QUENTIN CONVICT

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—Out of a cell in San Quentin, comes an accusation against Abraham Ruef, made by Jack Chretien, who declares that the curly-headed boss plotted to obtain money illegally from the Sullivan estate.

Everyone who has followed local, political and criminal history knows about the Sullivan estate and the sensational expose which occurred when it was in the courts.

As the result of the exposure Chretien was sent to San Quentin, and now the convict comes out with allegations against Ruef in which the boss is alleged to have plotted against the estate to secure thousands of dollars.

The story told by Chretien in affidavits and to two reporters, will not however be used as evidence before the new grand jury. Chretien claims he was used as a tool to loot the estate.

CHRISTIE DECLARES UNMACK IS UNFAIR

BERKELEY, Nov. 12.—Referee Unmack, who officiated at the Stanford-California football game Saturday, was severely scored by Trainer Walter Christie at a rally this morning at the Armory, as the university cadets were about to disband. Christie declared that Unmack was unfair in his handling of the game, and permitted many fouls on Stanford's part to pass unnoticed, while strictly calling the California team to account. He said that every time California was penalized, Stanford was given a free kick, while a foul was called on Stanford only once, and then the ball was put back in scrimmage, instead of giving Berkeley a free kick, such as Stanford had received so many times. He also declared that Touch Judge Williams was unfair. He insisted that if another Rugby game was ever played between California and Stanford there must be two referees, as he did not believe one referee capable of showing the impartiality required. It was announced that Colonel Geo. Edwards would offer a silver trophy cup to cost $500 for the winner of the Rugby championship among the high schools of the State of California.

STOCK-YARD AFIRE; 8 HORSES BURN

Flames Do Damage
Amounting to $15,000.

Fierce flames that started from some unknown cause in the stables belonging to F. Cames & Company, large wholesale butchers, at the foot of Sixty-sixth street, raged for several hours last night, sending heavy clouds of smoke over the city, burning to death eight head of valuable horses, and threatening for a time to wipe out entirely the entire Oakland stock-yards, and causing a loss of $15,000.

The flames were discovered by Barney Alden, a saloonkeeper widely known in the neighborhood, as he was returning home. The smoke was pouring from the Cames stables, within which were stabled, besides eight thoroughbred horses, several hundred head of sheep. The fire was at the time of discovery, consuming the hay stored in large quantities in the loft, and spreading rapidly throughout the structure.

An emergency call was sent at once to the Golden Gate fire station, on Fifty-ninth street, and to the Southern Pacific Company. Both responded at once, but before water could be brought to the fire the whole Cames barn was burning beyond control, and the blaze had spread to the adjoining stables of U. M. Slater. Both were flimsy, wooden structures, and with several tons of hay, burned with uncontrollable fury.

FLAMES CONFINED.

Adjoining these stables are the E. W. Corden tannery and a long row of wooden buildings across the street the Oakland Meat Company has a number of sheds in dangerous proximity to its main buildings. The efforts of the firemen were bent solely on preventing the conflagration spreading to these on either side, and thus becoming a general destructive holocaust. The task was rendered almost superhuman by an insufficient water supply. There was no means of extinguishing the blaze, as the available water was turned to preventing the spreading of the fire, leaving the Cames and Slater barns to burn to the ground. Had there been even the slightest breeze there would have been no hope of saving the district.

TRY TO SAVE HORSES.

An attempt was made immediately after the discovery of the fire to save the horses confined in the Slater barn. The cries of the poor creatures as they were rescued from the burning, slowly suffocated them, and the intense heat grew more and more unbearable, were heard above the noise made by the workers. By the time men reached them, seven of the animals were dead, and the eighth, overcome with smoke and heat, was falling.

The sheep, of which there were several hundred, were in sheds enclosing the stables. They were driven out with difficulty, just before the whole place broke out in flames.

DANGER IS OVER.

It was not until an early hour this morning that the danger was over, and the firemen were allowed to end their labors. The buildings were razed to the ground, the fire having been allowed to burn itself out. The stables, however, are still smoking and smoldering.

$80,000,000
WILL BE GIVEN
AWAY

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Russell Sage will give away the bulk of a fortune of about $80,000,000 bequeathed to her by her late husband to individuals whom she considers worthy, who, through no fault of their own, are so unfortunate as to need assistance, and too proud to ask.
It will not be given to endow churches, nor to those who write begging letters.
Mrs. Sage said she would do all she can, however, for struggling churches and institutions devoted to the care of the needy and sick.
"I shall keep only sufficient of the fortune left to me by my husband to live quietly and comfortably," Mrs. Sage said today.

TRAIN DITCHED AND BURNED UP; PASSENGERS ARE CREMATED ALIVE

People Are Caught in Ruins and Destroyed by Fierce Flames.

CHICAGO, NOV. 12.—AT 1 O'CLOCK OFFICIALS OF THE BALTIMORE & OHIO ANNOUNCED THAT THEY HAD RECEIVED POSITIVE NEWS FROM THE WRECK AT WOODVILLE, AND IT WAS KNOWN THAT OUT OF THE 135 PERSONS ON THE TRAIN, FORTY WERE KILLED, FORTY OTHERS INJURED AND SIXTY ESCAPED UNHURT.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—A wreck occurred today on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad at Woodville, Ind., about thirty miles from this city.

Reports so far are conflicting, but the majority of them place the number of dead at five killed outright in the collision, twenty to thirty others caught in the wreckage and burned to death, and twenty-five seriously injured. The majority of the killed and injured are immigrants.

The accident is said to have been caused by a confusion regarding signals, which allowed the immigrant train to pass a station when a freight was approaching from the opposite direction.

The two trains came together at full speed, and the impact wrecked both of them completely. A number of cars of the immigrant train were hurled down a ten-foot embankment and immediately caught fire.

Although every possible effort was made to extricate them from the wreckage, the flames spread so rapidly that this was impossible in many cases, and it is said that fully a score were burned to death before aid could be given them.

It is known that five of the immigrants were killed outright, and the engineer of the immigrant train was so badly injured that his recovery is impossible. Woodville is a small station about ten miles north of Valparaiso.

MOTHER CLAIMS BRUTALITIES TO HER DAUGHTER Pretty Wife of Patrolman Hodgkins Fights for a Divorce.

Attired in the same gown that she wore when she gave such startling testimony against her husband last week, Mrs. Harriet H. Hodgkins, the beautiful wife of Police Officer William H. Hodgkins, betrayed a spirit of nervousness when the divorce trial was continued before Judge John Ellsworth in the Superior court this morning. Her small foot tapped the floor to staccato measure when her uncle, W. R. Goodburn of Berkeley, testified to the marks on the throat and on the arm alleged to be inflicted by the officer.

Hodgkins, however, was calmness itself. Occasionally he would suggest questions to his counsel, C. C. Chapman, but at all times he kept his feelings under control. Goodburn was the first witness called. He said he was in the planning mill business and lived at 2142 Ward street, Berkeley, and he testified that he returned home one day and found his niece sobbing. Mrs. Goodburn invited his attention to bruises on Mrs. Hodgkins' body.

William Kohler, of Fruitvale, step-father of the fair plaintiff, followed Goodburn. He stated that during the early autumn of 1905 he saw his step-daughter with a black eye. This was at his home, 1387 Webster street, Kohler said he talked to Hodgkins about the difficulties he had with his wife. On cross examination he admitted he talked to both. He could not say that Hodgkins had scratches on his face.

MOTHER TAKES STAND.

Mrs. Kohler was then sent for, all of the witnesses being excluded from the court room until they were required by counsel. She stated she was the mother of the plaintiff. "Did you see any bruises or discolorations on the face of your daughter in 1905?" asked Attorney W. H. L. Hynes.

"Yes, sir," she replied. "I saw a black eye in May and bruises about Christmas. On the first occasion I got there half an hour after it happened. She had quite a swelling on the side of her eye. I did have a conversation with Hodgkins at my home on Webster street regarding (Continued on Page Three.)

CHINAMAN 'MASHES' SCHOOL GIRLS

Allee Same Melican
Man Is Hon
Sing.

An amorous Chinaman, dressed in height of American fashion, and with a desire to receive the smiles of American women, is now in the city prison, charged with disturbing the peace. The celestia's name is Hon Sing, and he had been accosting women in Kahn Brothers' store at Twelfth and Washington streets and also approaching High School girls on their way to school.

The Chinaman was arrested last week upon complaint of Principal Pond of the High School, who appeared in department one of the police court and testified against the Chinaman.

"My attention was called to the defendant," said Pond in testifying, "by Irving Kahn, one of my students, who stated that a suspicious-looking Chinaman was standing near the school, accosting the girls and tipping his hat to them. I could not catch the fellow at his tricks, but the next day one of the teachers complained to me. I then had him arrested.

"I am determined to stop any male persons from accosting the High School girls while they are on their way to and from school."

The charge of vagrancy placed against Hon Sing was dismissed by Judge Smith this morning, no evidence being given to fix the date of his alleged crime. The defendant was ordered into custody again, however, on a charge of disturbing the peace and some of the High School girls will be called on to testify against him.

FRANCE, SPAIN AND MOROCCAN SITUATION

PARIS, Nov. 12.—Foreign Minister Pichon, in an interview today regarding the Moroccan situation, declared that the understanding between France and Spain concerning the measures to be taken in Morocco was not complete. He added: "The terms of the Algeiras convention will be strictly followed. Nothing has occurred warranting a suspicion that the Berlin government is disposed to interfere. The organization of the state bank is proceeding as rapidly as possible."

RACING MEN ATTEND FUNERAL OF JOCKEY

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The body of Levern Sewell, the jockey who died Friday night, was taken to a vault in Greenwood Cemetery Sunday, where it will rest until Tuesday, when it will be taken for burial to Canton, Mass., his birthplace. The dead boy was 18 years old. Many notable racing men attended the funeral. The pallbearers were six jockeys, companions of Sewell in life.

Old Resident Returns.

Hugh Craig has opened with Wickham Havens in the real estate business and has returned to his first love, having commenced his California experience as a laborer with Barnhart, Standford & Company in 1870. In 1875 he took up the insurance business, fire and marine, and later married an Oakland belle, and for the last twenty-seven years has resided at Piedmont, where the family home is located.

San Francisco was quick to recognize the energy of the man from Oakland, and ere long he stepped into the position of president of the Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco, which he held down for three years during the exciting times of '97, '98 and '99, and was for two years president of the Trans-Mississippi Congress.

During the last thirty-five years Mr. Craig has taken an active part in all movements for the development of San Francisco and Alameda counties, and the bay, and is especially well informed on the details of all harbor affairs. Oakland welcomes such men as Mr. Craig to its active business circles.

Mr. Wickham Havens, who makes a specialty of Piedmont properties, has secured in Mr. Craig a valuable associate, and Mr. Craig's services are at the disposal of all intended investors.

Death has claimed another pioneer in the person of John Lilly Montgomery, who passed away yesterday evening, in the 74th year of his age, at the family home, 522 Seventeenth street. The deceased was one of the best known of the early residents of this city and State, having come here in 1851. For a number of years, he conducted a commercial business in the Sacramento and the rest of his life was passed in Oakland. He was a man of sterling traits, sturdy and energetic and enjoyed the esteem of all who knew him. He was a native of Rockburgh, Canada.

PUBLIC AND PONIES ARE READY FOR OPENING RACE

THOMAS H. WILLIAMS, president New California Jockey Club.

Fast Horses and Generous Purses Will Rule at Emeryville, Beginning Next Saturday.

One of the gala events of the year in the racing world will be the grand opening of the Emeryville track of the California Jockey Club next Saturday. Followers of the turf, both men and women, are preparing for the great day. The ponies are in fine fettle and the first day of the season will be a memorable one.

As usual, Thomas B. Williams, the efficient and capable president, who has handled the reins of the California Jockey Club for fifteen years, will be in charge of affairs this year and promises more good sport and finer than ever before.

President Williams believes in talking little and doing much and as a result everything is in readiness for the opening day. Under his supervision, the California Jockey Club has "made good" and the public is confident in his ability to give them the best racing sport that the world provides.

The racing club has now been organized for nearly two decades and this year will be stronger and better than ever. Fine strings of horses have been brought here and as a result the cards that will be offered by the management will be banner ones.

FORTY PERISH IN TRAIN WRECK

Passengers Caught in Ruins and Are Burned Alive.

ralso, and aid was immediately summoned from that place.

A wrecking train which was at once made up at Woodville, was dispatched along the line to secure medical aid, and every physician within reach was at once taken on board of the train and hurried back to Woodville.

Later reports from the wreck declared that the number of dead was but five, and that none of the immigrants were burned to death in the wreckage.

The colliding trains were express Number 7, westbound, made up of express and passenger cars and freight train No. 86 eastbound. The express train had 56 passengers on board, all immigrants.

The railroad company gathered physicians from every available point and a wreck train from Chicago and took others. There were fifty at the scene to attend the injured.

The wreck occurred on a curve and the engineers had but little time to reverse their levers and jump.

The officials of the Baltimore & Ohio said later in the morning that only one man had been found killed in the wreck and he was an unknown Italian.

At 10:30 o'clock the Baltimore & Ohio road wired Mercy hospital here to be prepared for the reception of forty injured persons and requested the aid of the police department in caring for them. Chief of Police Collins at once ordered 41 ambulances to meet the train at the depot. It was announced by the officials of the road that the train would not reach this city before 3:30 o'clock.

The accident it is declared, was the result of a misdirection by a train dispatcher. He ordered a freight train held at Chicago Junction, Ind., to allow a passenger train to pass. The passenger train was running in two sections, but the conductor of the freight train was not informed of this. When the first section of the passenger had passed he therefore pulled out on the main line and the collision followed.

the paternity of the unborn child. He said he did not know whether he was his father but later said he was. Two months before the baby was born I saw finger marks on her neck and bruises on her arms. I saw them on my sister's, Mrs. Goodburn. She lived there five weeks and then returned to her husband. I called the next day with my sister at the Hodgkins' house on Twenty-sixth street. He said that his wife's absence had taught him a lesson and promised me that he would not be guilty of vulgarity or brutality again.

"At my house I told him he had no right to tear up my daughter's clothes and hats because he did not pay for them. They came from money obtained by my daughter from her father's estate. He laughed at that and said that he tore them up to keep her in the house. She had to borrow hats from me or my sister."

IS CROSS EXAMINED.

On cross examination she stated she did not remember a conversation with Hodgkins about the middle of August, 1935, wherein she said that his wife would behave herself in future. Mrs. Kohler denied that in May, 1936, she protested against his contesting the case and became angry when he said he would defend it. She also disclaimed that she engaged in a talk with the defendant "about the Porter matter," wherein it is claimed that Mrs. Hodgkins wanted this physician to perform a criminal operation upon her, so she would not become a mother.

"Did you not say to the defendant when he called on the night of May 28, 1936, 'Are you going to bring up the Porter matter?'" asked Chapman.

"No, sir."

"Did he not say to you that his wife said to him, 'Do not be too sure that you are the father of the child?'"

"No, sir."

On several occasions Judge Ellisworth was forced to instruct the witness to make responsive answers. She said that the hat belonging to her daughter was out of date because it had been purchased six months before marriage. "I thought ladies' styles changed every six months in headgear," said Chapman.

Mrs. Hodgkins in her husband's answer and cross complaint that when he asked her where she had been when she came home late, that she replied: "It is none of your business." She said she never stayed out as late as midnight. She never went out when he asked her to stay at home.

Judge T. W. Harris, of the Superior court, granted the rector, warden and vestrymen of St. Paul's church, this city, permission to sell the property owned by the church corporation on Harrison and Thirteenth streets for $50,000. This sale was the result of the improvement of the block by the erection of the new Oakland hotel.

GENERAL SHAFER LOSES FIGHT TO DEATH

a great work in keeping life up, but after midnight and early this morning a constant weakening was discerned. Dr. Mitchell and the trained nurses labored untiringly, but the General lapsed into unconsciousness at 6 o'clock and remained in that condition until death.

Captain and Mrs. W. H. McKittrick, the General's son-in-law and daughter, Miss Edmond, a niece, and James N. Shaffer, a brother, were at the bedside when the end came.

Nothing has been given out yet for publication concerning the funeral arrangements, but it is presumed that the remains will be taken to San Francisco, where they will be interred with military honors.

Brigadier-General William R. Shaffer, had seen almost thirty-seven years of continuous service in the United States Army. He was born in Michigan October 18, 1835, and was appointed from civil life on August 22, 1861, as First Lieutenant of the Sixth Michigan Infantry. After being honorably mustered out of the volunteer service with the rank of Brevet Brigadier-General on July 28, 1865, he was appointed Lieutenant-Colonel of the Forty-first Infantry, United States Army. General Shaffer took part in the siege of Yorktown and the action of West Point, and was engaged in the battles of Fair Oaks, Savage Station, Glendale and Malvern Hill. He was taken prisoner in March, 1863. He was exchanged two months later, and was awarded the medal of honor by Congress for most distinguished gallantry in the battle of Fair Oaks, May 31, 1862, where, though wounded early in the action, he remained on the field till the close of the engagement.

NO COMPLAINT IN CHAUFFEUR'S CASE

No complaint had been filed this morning against Roy Simon, the young chauffeur, who has been arrested on a charge of manslaughter, preferred by the coroner's jury which sat at the inquest into the death of Anton Ribber, who was killed as a result of being run over by Simon's automobile. The case was continued until tomorrow morning in department one of the police court.

Every Lady Will Get a Piece

Rather than annoy ladies by solicitors, the Washere Manufacturing Company will send a sample of Washere to every house in Oakland, Alameda, Berkeley and Fruitvale, so that every housewife can be convinced how easy washing can be done by using Washere. Washere is sold on merit and not on talk. Look for the sample. Sold by all grocers.

WILLIE AND THE MAIDENS FAIR

Well, Saturday evening, I had a chat with my boss and he thought I had better let up on the introductions but he didn't object to my offering some special inducements to stimulate trade commencing Tuesday morning. So the first seven suits we sell in the men's clothing department we will throw in a girl with it for good measure. Just buy your suit and then ask the salesman to trot out the fairies. Some with red hair, some with false teeth, some with glass eyes and every one of 'em paints and uses powder. Here are their names: Irish Mollie, Busy Lizzy, Della, Kate, Snyder Catchup, Lucy Twostep, Alice Where Artchou, and one old maid—all single and have friends who wear Dutchess trousers—10c a button, $1.00 a rip or a new pair—prices $1.00 to $4.00 a pair—and we keep paragon pants, up to $8.00 per pair. When it comes to pants we are headquarters. Many an old suit has been bolstered up by a pair of new pants and we guarantee all we sell. Try us for the next pair.

SILENCE BESPEAKS GREAT CONFIDENCE OF HENEY

Prosecutor Declares He Will Give the Public Results From the New Grand Jury.

Francis J. Heney has decided that actions speak louder than words, and he declines to talk further regarding his plans to bring the alleged municipal grafters of San Francisco to justice until he is able to say something which has not already been said in some other form. He believes that he has now reached the point where all has been said which can safely be made public before evidence is placed before the Grand Jury, and he is plainly averse to giving the appearance of seeking mere advertising or cheap notoriety.

"What the public wants of me is results, and that is what I am going to give them," he said today. "I do not know that the charge of fraud in the recent election will be taken up first by the Grand Jury," continued Mr. Heney. "If there is anything in it there will certainly be an investigation, but, as a matter of fact, I have not seen Oliver since the day he was selected foreman of the Grand Jury. He is hunting for a place for the body to meet, and nobody should be better able to do so, as he has been in the real estate business and is thoroughly familiar with the resources the city affords."

JURY LEADER SPEAKS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—"I am a citizen of San Francisco. It was my birthplace; and I have lived here all my life—fifty-two years. Her best interests are of first importance in my eyes, and I shall not shrink any duty that is for her welfare. Until our work is finished I shall devote my entire time to it. My business will have to do without me."

In this manner B. P. Oliver, foreman of the grand jury that will have the duty of probing into the mass of graft and rottenness of the municipal government, stated his intention of performing his civic duties.

"As to anything concerning the work of the grand jury, I have taken an oath of silence, and I shall keep it. No, I shall not discuss either before, or after, we may make our findings, anything concerning them outside of the grand jury room. This may be an extreme stand to take, but I am the veriest tyro in this business, and must be guided by my own sense of the right."

Oliver stated late last evening that as yet he had been unsuccessful in finding suitable rooms in which the grand jury may hold its sessions, although he had spent considerable time in the search. He will probably put the machinery of his business office at work tomorrow, and expects to find quarters very soon where the body may work without danger of interruption. He had expected to be able to find rooms in the Flood building, but was disappointed.

Oliver takes his new job very seriously and says he believes every citizen should do the same.

"Do not think," he said, "that because I say I will not talk about any of the work of the grand jury that I shall not always be glad to see the newspaper men. And—here his tone became impressive—"I shall welcome as a brother any one who can furnish us any help whatever in our work. I believe that every citizen in San Francisco is just as much bound to help in any way he can as are the handful of men who have been chosen to serve on the jury. Any person who comes to us in the best interests of the city has my solemn promise of all the protection that is within my power."

TIME NO BARRIER.

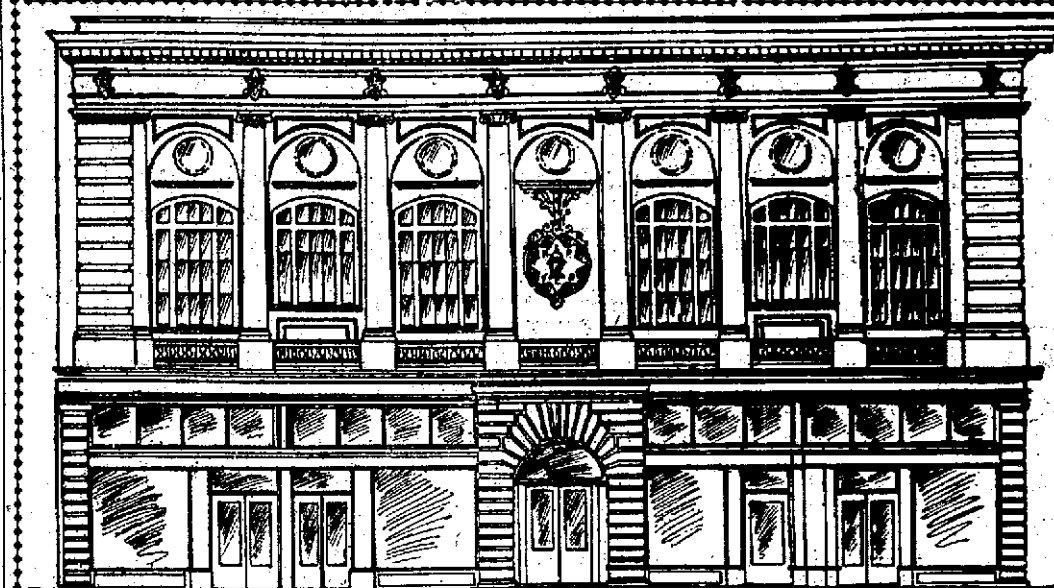

To a number of questions bearing remotely on the work of the jury, as for instance, whether or not the jury would hear any evidence today, Oliver enigmatically answered: "I cannot tell. I have no idea how long it will take to complete our work. As I said before, I have had no experience whatever in this kind of work, never having served on a grand jury, and only once before in my life having been impaneled on a petty jury. It makes no difference to me, however, how long it takes, we will stick to it until we have done all that can be done. This is to me a more important thing than personal business."

Being asked if he was personally acquainted with the members of the body over which he is to preside, Oliver said: "I believe I have known nearly all of them by sight."

To the question: "Do you feel that you know them well enough to feel sure of all of them?" he replied: "I cannot tell."

Only once during the interview did Oliver let slip a statement that would indicate his belief in the charges that have been made against the municipal officers. In response to an expression of doubt as to whether or not Assistant District Attorney Heney and Detective William J. Burns really had any convicting evidence, despite the assertions that have been made, Oliver said, and with some emphasis: "If Heney and Langdon can not make good what they have said they can, they ought to be run out of town."

MAGNIFICENT NEW PYTHIAN CASTLE TO RESOUND WITH ELOQUENCE AND MUSIC

SUPERVISORS IN SESSION

Transact Much and Varied Business at Regular Weekly Meeting.

At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors this morning all the members were present.

A map of "Russell City" in Eden Township was filed. A map of the Brown tract in Brooklyn Township was also filed. None of the streets in the tracts in question were accepted as public thoroughfares.

A resolution was adopted loaning 100 ballot boxes to the City of Oakland to be used at the special election for the annexation to Oakland of territory east of the eastern line of this city.

A. L. Hanson was granted permission to lay 24-inch water pipe across Jones avenue between First and Second streets, the work to be done under the direction of the Supervisor of the Second District.

Melrose School Bonds.

A resolution was adopted to the effect that bids would be received until 10 o'clock, November 13, for 125,000 bonds of the Union High School, No. 4. The bonds are in the denomination of $500 and are to run 10 years.

Arrested from Arthur Francis, secretary of the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress to send a representative to the proposed Congress to be held in Kansas City, Nov. 20-3, of this year was filed.

Safety of Records.

A communication was received from G. W. McKand, searcher of records to the effect that "county records of Alameda are threatened by destruction by fire from ravages of fire and convulsions of nature. The structure known as the Hall of Records which is the depository of archives more precious than any other affording no defense whatever against destruction by those agencies, being of a type which is ordinarily used for warehousing of commodities of little comparative worth."

The matter was referred to the Committee of the Whole. The State Agricultural Society asked the Board to appoint a correspondent in each township in the county who would keep the organization informed as regards crops, industrial conditions of the season. Filed. A resolution was adopted cancelling certificates of tax-sales of property assessed to David S. Barger in Eden Township because of dual assessment.

Liquor licenses were granted to Joe Silveira, Mission San Jose; S. T. Coram, Centerville; Joe Gerken & Co., Park avenue and Park street; James Frandsen, San Lorenzo; John Krager, Castro Valley; Albert Silva, Decoto. Arthur Fort in a communication from Fruitvale set forth that the Oakland Traction Consolidated had laid a switch across the sidewalk in front of his property at the southeast corner of East Fourteenth street and Fulton avenue, and by so doing had depreciated the value of the property.

Attorney Engs, representing the Oakland Traction Consolidated, was summoned before the board to explain the action of the Traction Consolidated, but declared that he did not know that the track had been laid, nor the purpose of laying it.

The matter was continued for one week to enable information to be secured on the part of the railway company and the protestant.

SANITARY DISTRICT.

J. Huffaker and fifteen other residents of Alameda testified that they had signed a petition asking the board to form a sanitary district in that place to be known as the East Fruitvale Sanitary district. The matter was continued for one week. The election to determine whether or not the district shall be created will not be called until after the election on annexation, January 15 next, because if the latter proposition carries, the work of sanitation will be carried out by Greater Oakland.

The application of Henry V. Snow, to run a saloon on Moss avenue and San Leandro road was referred to the license committee.

The protest against the granting of a saloon license to Thomas Faustino at Newark, on the ground that his petition was not signed by six of the ten nearest residents to his place of business, was continued until next Monday. In the meantime Faustino will be required to procure a certificate from the county surveyor that his application has the requisite number of legal signatures.

E. E. & A. L. Stone secured a contract for draining and macadamizing East Fourteenth street from the Oakland city line to High street, the price being $3450. A bid from the same firm for the grading, draining and macadamizing of Deering avenue from the north line of the San Leandro road to the north line of Bond street, Brooklyn township, for $3,554.34 was laid over for one week.

A resolution was adopted ordering the construction of a new bridge. A requisition of Dr. W. A. Clark for a typewriter at the County Infirmary was granted. G. W. McKoon, an old soldier, was granted a free peddler's license. Recess till 1:30 p. m.

J. N. BONHAM, president of the Knights of Pythias Hall Association.

SHIFTS PLEA TO GUILTY

John Dillon Will Be Tried on Charge of Assault on a Saloonkeeper.

When the case of the people against John Dillon was called this morning in Judge Harris' Court, the defendant stated that he wished to withdraw his plea of not guilty and enter one of guilty.

The Court thereupon postponed sentence until next Monday. Dillon was charged with assault with a deadly weapon with intent to commit murder upon Christian Schlenker, July 23. He only pleaded guilty to assault with a deadly weapon.

Attorney Lin S. Church will subpoena a host of witnesses to prove previous good character of defendant.

One of the important centers of the fraternal world in this city.

An appropriate program has been arranged for the occasion by a committee composed of Judge George Samuels (chairman), Charles B. Wood (secretary), B. J. Reed, A. C. Farallo, George Collier, B. S. Redman, E. A. Bernstein, J. Ryan, M. Beck, J. H. Bonham and E. S. Hoyce.

It will be as follows: Introduction, Judge George Samuels; duet, "The Lion Hath Raised His Lamp," Messrs. Yeaco and Rowlands; dedication exercises, grand lodge officers; contralto solos, "The Night of a Thousand Eyes" and "The Quest," Mrs. Waterman; remarks, Mayor Frank R. Mott; tenor solos, "Obstination" and "Be Cause," Yeaco; address, Governor George C. Pardee; solo, "Thy Name," C. Rowlands; soprano solo, "Chanson Provencale, Del' Aquas," Mrs. Jeanne Provencal; Del' Aquas, Mrs. Jeanne Provencal; "The Fisherman's Good Night," Miss Mabel Hill will be the accompanist.

FINE HOME COST $100,000

With impressive ceremonies the new Pythian Castle, at Twelfth and Alice streets, erected by the Pythian Hall Association at a cost of $100,000, will be dedicated tonight. The hall bids fair to be

GUILTY CANNOT ESCAPE LONG ARM OF THE LAW

District Attorney Langdon Hints That Burns Watches Movement of Every Suspected Grafter.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—What would happen if one of the men already directly accused of grafting endeavored to place himself beyond the jurisdiction of the courts?

This pertinent question was put to District Attorney Langdon. It was one of a series of queries tending to the same end.

Guarded as was his conversation, studied almost to the infection of a word, his replies might be construed into an intimation that no guilty man will be allowed to journey where he cannot be reached by the long arm of the California courts.

"What would happen?" echoed Langdon. Then there was a long pause.

"Well, it is not my province, or the policy of the district attorney, to make public what would happen."

"Suppose that you were informed that one of the men accused contemplated leaving California. Suppose you were told the day and hour he purposed leaving, what steps, if any, would you take to prevent his going?"

"Suppose," began the district attorney, after another long pause, "suppose some one came to me and told me that a chicken had been stolen, and that the thief contemplated leaving the State, do you suppose I would make a talk in the public prints as to the method I would take to prevent him doing so? The first thing we learn in the district attorney's office is absolute secrecy. I must decline to pass any opinion in the premises."

"Is it likely that a man who has been publicly branded as a grafter would be allowed to leave the State?" was asked.

"There is a wrong for every right," replied Langdon. "As I said before I must refuse to make any statement as to any official action, one way or the other."

"In view of the fact that some of the men whose names have been connected with various phases of graft are not now in California, would it not be possible for others apparently more directly implicated to leave pending the action of the grand jury?"

"As I said before, I have no suggestion to offer," replied Langdon. "We have all kinds of stories brought to us. Right or wrong we can divulge none of them. I should venture the opinion, however, that if we wanted any one badly, Burns might be cognizant of his movements. As for myself I can only reiterate what I have so often stated, that it will be time enough to make public what is really being done when the time for accomplishment arrives."

IMPROVEMENT CLUB HOLDS MEETING

MELROSE, Nov. 12.—The Melrose Improvement club held its regular meeting Saturday, November 10. President McDonald in the chair.

The matter of street names was taken up and the club by a unanimous vote decided on naming all streets on both sides of East Fourteenth street, avenues—to be continuous from Twenty-seventh avenue, Oakland, to the most easterly street in Melrose which would be Fifty-third avenue.

The question of forming a volunteer fire department was gone into, the members all signing a petition to start that much needed protection.

A protest from the Melrose district was heard about the kind of structure to be erected for the Union High School No. 4, as the bond issue of $125,000 was understood to go toward the building of reinforced concrete. It is now decided by the High School Trustees to build a frame building.

Committees were appointed to go to the five districts interested and arrange for calling a mass-meeting and a formal meeting is to be held at the residence of George Taylor, corner of East Fourteenth street and Forty-sixth avenue.

AGED MAN AGREES TO HAVING A GUARDIAN

Realizing that he was growing old and feeble and that he is of an excitable nature, Herman Althof, 78 years of age, residing at 860 Linden street, has acquiesced to his brother Theodore, aged 67, becoming the legal guardian of his person and estate. Accordingly Attorney Abe Leach filed a petition in the Superior Court this afternoon to that effect. Althof, who has been identified with California since the early days, has given away $100,000 to relatives, but still is worth $40,000. Theodore lives in San Francisco.

NEW REAL ESTATE FIRM INCORPORATED

Articles of incorporation of the Clarence Fogg Home Building Company were filed in the county clerk's office this morning, showing that the company is formed for the purpose of purchasing, holding and selling real estate. The principal place of business is to be Oakland. The directors are Clarence Fogg and Henry C. Morris, Oakland; F. A. Hyde, Berkeley. The amount of capital stock is $75,000, of which $7500 has been actually subscribed.

STOP! Your Attention Piano Insurance Sale

An unusual condition. One in your favor. It has always been our pride to carry the largest stock and the most exclusive varieties in San Francisco and Oakland. To accomplish this and keep pace with the tremendous business we are now doing, our Cincinnati, Chicago and New York factories have been going at four times their usual capacity.

Twenty-one carloads of pianos arrived this week. The insurance company refused to give us any more insurance as we are in a dangerous part of the city, among the machine and paint shops. We dare not carry them without insurance. We must dispose of them at once. To accomplish this in the shortest possible time, we cut the prices, totally disregarding cost or value.

This is no so-called "Fake Sale." Come and get our prices and compare them with other dealers and convince yourself.

We only had fifteen days' notice to vacate from our 15th and Broadway store to this place. We also have several second-hand instruments to offer. Below we quote you prices on a few:

HONORS FOR SECY. METCALF

U. S. District Attorney Devlin
Gives Dinner for the Official.

A luncheon party was given by United States District Attorney Robert T. Devlin at the Pacific Union Club in San Francisco Saturday in honor of Victor H. Metcalf, Secretary of Commerce and Labor. A few men prominent throughout the State were also present on the occasion, which was most informal and which afforded Secretary Metcalf a splendid chance for recreation from his arduous task of solving the American-Japanese school problem, which is stirring up San Francisco, and in fact the whole Pacific Coast just at this time.

Two leading representatives of Japan were present at the luncheon, showing that harmony still reigns between the two nations, notwithstanding the fact that the little empire was much wrought up because Japanese children had been excluded from the public schools.

Yokohama Specie Bank; Japanese Consul Uyeno; Justice Henshaw; Representatives Needham, Kahn, Knowland and McKinlay; William F. Harris, Francis J. Henry and W. J. Burns. The guests of the occasion spent several hours pleasantly at the club.

Mrs. J. H. Peterson and daughter Janette visited in Oakland over Sunday.
Mrs. H. C. Seaton and Miss Kate Gresslin returned home Saturday after a two-weeks' visit at Healdsburg.
Arthur Whipple of the University of California spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Whipple.
Mrs. E. W. Meyers, Mrs. H. May, Mrs. R. Volmer of San Francisco, Mrs. Hale, and Mrs. Hubert of Alameda, Mrs. Paul of Alameda, grandchildren, and Miss Charlotte Meyer, great-grandchild, together with the children of Mrs. James Hawley, celebrated her 85th birthday at Alviso last Wednesday.
Miss Wynona Hubbard spent a few days in Oakland last week.
Elmer D. Peters of Auburn, Placer county, was a visitor of Mr. and Mrs. C. Runckel one day last week.
A package social was held at the home of Mrs. Hubbard Saturday evening for the benefit of the church. Each package contained some fancy article worth from 10 to 25 cents, which were sold. The social was a success, both financially and socially.

FINED $5 FOR ATTACK ON AGED HAYMAN

A fine of five dollars was imposed on John Gere by Police Judge Smith this morning for committing battery on J. Graham, the flagman at the corner nearly killed in a collision between his wagon and a Southern Pacific car of First and Broadway. Gere twice train and he accused Graham of being the cause of the accident. The two men had words and Gere struck the aged flagman.

DELAY ENDED FOR M'NULTY

Judge Orders Trial for Tomorrow Despite Reported Illness of Attorney.

Judge T. W. Harris in the Superior Court this morning made it apparent that he will not tolerate further delay in the trial of Lester C. McNulty, former deputy county clerk, who is charged with attacking Miss Dorothy Olsen. When the case was called Judge A. L. Frick's clerk presented a doctor's certificate purporting to show that the counsel for the defendant was too ill to appear before Wednesday. Judge Harris did not place much credence in the doctor's certificate because he ordered that the trial be proceeded with tomorrow.

TELEGRAPHERS HONOR MEMORY OF MEMBER

Resolutions of respect and condolence on the death of F. S. Thompson, general chairman of System No. 53, who passed away suddenly Saturday morning at El Paso, were passed this morning by the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, which met in convention at the Hotel Metropole. Thompson was to have attended the session, but passed away while en route to this city. The convention, consisting of about ten delegates, did but little business this morning. They will be in session for several days. Thompson had been in the telegraph service of the Southern Pacific Company for twenty-five years and was a respected member of the Order of Telegraph Operators.

WOMEN TELL OF CATCHING BURGLAR

The exciting story of the capture of a bold burglar in the Blind Home by two attendants, Jeanette Hughes and Nellie Bonneau, was related in Department Two of the police court this morning when Thomas Bayles had his preliminary hearing on a charge of burglary. The young women told of seeing Bayles in their room, chasing him and capturing him, holding him a prisoner until the arrival of the police. Bayles was held over to the Superior court in $2000.

WOMAN ROBBED BY WINDOW CLEANER

A colored window cleaner whom Mrs. S. Jones of 1667 Eighth street had employed last Saturday to clean her house, succeeded in ransacking one of the rooms of Mrs. Jones' home and secured $10 and a commutation ticket. Mrs. Jones discovered her loss after the negro had left and at once notified the police of the theft. Bicycles were stolen from the following last Saturday: L. C. Lee of the Bacon block; Arthur Rowe of 873 Lydia street and W. O. Groth of 1356 Harrison street.

SAILOR CLAIMS TO BE VICTIM OF ASSAULT

Frank Schwarz, a seaman on board the U. S. S. Pensacola, was taken to the Receiving hospital at 2 o'clock this morning suffering from an abrasion of the right eye and cheek. Schwarz said he was struck by an unknown man, but Warden Page, who treated him, stated that the sidewalk flew up and hit him.

Gasoline Tank Blows Up.
Probably Fatally Injuring Engineer.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—With a terrific report, which was heard by nearly everyone in this city, the gasoline tank on the launch Envoy, at the Howard street wharf, exploded shortly after eight o'clock last night. Roy Thompson, aged twenty-one years, the engineer, was blown from the launch into the bay, and probably fatally injured. The launch itself, which was one of the fastest "torpedo boats" on the bay, owned by Crowley Brothers, was completely wrecked. It was built at a cost of $2500 and was not insured.

Engineer Thompson had been instructed to carry an officer of the steamer Manchuria, to that vessel, lying off Mission Rock.
As it was very dark, Thompson carried a lantern and upon reaching the launch opened one of the windows and entered. No sooner had he done so when the gas which filled the little engine room ignited, and the flames spread instantaneously to a large gasoline tank on the roof of the cabin. Thompson was blown overboard by the force of the explosion, but his clothes, saturated with the burning gasoline, burned to the very flesh.

RESCUED.

He was rescued by Harry Koeger, engineer of the gasoline schooner Pike County, who dragged him aboard the boat at Crowley's boatworks. He accompanied him from there to the Harbor Emergency hospital, where his many burns were dressed by Dr. Magnus, who stated that the young man might not survive the shock of his terrible injuries.

Shortly after the explosion the flames from the launch shot into the air, and people rushed madly about screaming that the whole water front was on fire. Engine companies and the fireboat Governor Markham responded, but the launch burned to the water's edge and sunk meanwhile. Martin Burns, a hoseman fell from his truck and was severely injured. He was taken to Harbor hospital for treatment.

Engineer Thompson lives with his mother at 68 Tenth avenue, and has been employed until recently as a mechanic at the factory of the Union Gas Engine Company.

COLLEGE WIDOW AT THE MACDONOUGH

Comedy of invincible charm is "The College Widow," which comes to the Macdonough for six nights, beginning tomorrow. Success is stamped so indelibly upon this best of George Ade's works, that its merits seem to have been heralded to every nook and corner of American territory. The thousands who have seen it, have told thousands who have not been so fortunate, of its irresistible attractiveness, and thus an endless chain of theater-goers await its advent wherever it goes. For "The Widow" this season, Henry W. Savage is sending a producing company which it is said is the best talented that has yet appeared under the Savage banner. There will be matinees Saturday and Sunday.

MRS. SCUBART DEAD.

Mrs. Anna Marie Schubart, forty-one years of age and a native of Germany passed away this morning at her home, Second street and Broadway, from lung trouble. As no doctor was in attendance an inquest will be held.

LEAPS BEFORE TROLLEY CAR

Lompoc Farmer Receives Serious Injuries While Leaving Berkeley Car.

C. K. Hardenbrook, a farmer of Lompoc, alighting from a Telegraph-avenue car at Vine street, Berkeley, jumped in front of a car coming from the opposite direction, Saturday midnight, and received serious injuries. Hardenbrook was removed to the Receiving hospital, where Dr. George G. Reine attended him, and found that he had sustained a dislocation of the left wrist, a scalp wound and a sprained back. He was bound for Berkeley from the south to visit his son, a student there.

THOUGHT GYPSIES HAD ROBBED HIM

Declaring that he had been robbed of his gold, T. J. Banner of 403 Ninth street, had two Gypsy fortune-tellers arrested last night, suspecting them of being the thieves. The two women were taken to the city prison, but after being searched, no money being found on them they were released.
Banner asserts that while he was standing at the corner of Eighth and Washington streets he was approached by the two Gypsies, who asked to be allowed to tell his fortune. Banner refused the offer, and when the women had walked away found that $35 was missing from his pocket. He immediately suspected the fortune tellers and had them arrested.

NEWS FROM BERKELEY AND CITY OF ALAMEDA

70 PAINTINGS OF GOLDEN GATE SCENES

WORK OF MRS. BERTHA STRINGER LEE FEATURE OF EXHIBIT.

Many Excellent Canvases Are Now Being Shown in San Francisco.

BERKELEY, Nov. 12.—Under the auspices of the studio of Miss E. Dalingfield, known about the bay as a society woman and artist, the second art exhibition to be held in this part of the State since the earthquake, is now being given at the new Hillside clubhouse in North Berkeley.

The exhibit is of sketches and paintings of Mrs. Bertha Stringer-Lee. The other exhibition of paintings produced since the fire was that of William Keith at Vickery's, in San Francisco.

Mrs. Stringer-Lee, formerly Miss Bertha Stringer of San Francisco, was for many years a pupil of Keith.

SEVEN CANVASES SHOWN.

The present exhibition comprises seventy of the products of her brush. Among the canvases which have attracted particular attention is a scene among the trees at Golden Gate Park and some Mission scenes. A painting which shows a eucalyptus in the mist has been especially admired. A good deal of interest has also been manifested in a picture of a Berkeley hayfield. The picture was saved from the San Francisco fire. A full list of the paintings and sketches follows:

A Hazy Morning—Carmel-by-the-Sea; The Pines—Carmel; Doorway—Carmel; Mission; Morning at Carmel; Light and Shadow—San Francisco; Custom House—Monterey (before restoration); Sunny Morning at the Docks—San Francisco; Carmel Road; Hay Barge; Gray Morning; Cloudy Day; Chain of Lakes—Golden Gate Park; Carmel Bay; Sketch at Carmel Beach; Porch of Old Custom House (before restoration); "The Trembling Water Laps the Level Sands"—Carmel; The Yellow Glow; At Kentfield, Marin County; Sketch at Napa Valley; A Busy Morning; "To Where the Sky Dips Down to Sea and Sands"—Carmel; Eucalyptus in the Mist; Carmel by the Sea; "Small Rippling Clouds Are Flushed With Rose"—San Francisco docks; On the Water Front—San Francisco; A Hot Day—Piedmont; A Stretch of Sand at Carmel; Eucalyptus Grove—Golden Gate Park; Solano—San Francisco water front; Eucalyptus of Berkeley; Evening Hour; "Far Upward in the Yellow Light Rose the Distant Hills"; Eventide; The Sun-burnt Hills—Carmel; In the Evening; Morning Light; Carmel; Restless Sea—Carmel; Morning at Carmel; A Bit of Sand—Carmel; Eucalyptus in Golden Gate Park; Sunset—Oakland Creek; Overhanging Fog at Carmel; Bolinas Bay; San Juan Capistrano; San Francisco Bay; Cypress Point—Monterey; A Cold Morning in San Francisco (Pastel); The Creek; A Sweep of Sand—Carmel; At the Wharf in San Francisco; Rippling Water—San Francisco Bay; A Gray Day at Carmel; Doorway—San Juan Capistrano; Among the Trees—Golden Gate Park; Sunlight—Berkeley; Eucalyptus and Sand Dunes—Carmel; A Symphony in Gray; A Decade—San Francisco; A Sunny Monterey Street; An Isolated Dwelling—San Francisco; Haycocks in Berkeley; Homebound Bound; Morning in Alameda; Carmel Bay; Near Lake Merritt; Near Tiburon; Sketch at Carmel; The Violet Glow; By the Sea—Carmel; Lagoon at Carmel.

Tricked by Dyspepsia

The Doctor Couldn't Tell Where the Trouble Lay.

"For the past seven years I have been a victim of dyspepsia and chronic constipation and have consulted the most noted specialists to be found on diseases of this character. None, however, seemed to locate the difficulty or give relief. In addition to this medical treatment, I have resorted to the use of many remedies and have given them faithful trial, but all to no purpose.

Upon the recommendation of a close friend, I purchased a box of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and after five days noticed that I was receiving more benefit than from any remedy I had used before. I continued to use the tablets after each meal for one month and by that time my stomach was in a healthy condition, capable of digesting anything which my increasing appetite demanded.

I have not experienced any return of my former trouble, and three months have elapsed since taking your remedy."

We wish that you could see with your own eyes the countless other bona-fide signs and symptoms of men and women all over the land who had suffered years of agony with dyspepsia, tried every known remedy and consulted eminent specialists without result, until they gave Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets a trial. Like the doctor above, they couldn't locate the seat of the trouble.

Dyspepsia is a disease which has long baffled physicians. So difficult of location is this disease that it seems next to miraculous. There is only one way to treat dyspepsia—to supply the elements which nature has ordained to perform this function and to cause them to enter the digestive organs, supplying the fluids which they lack. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets alone fill these requirements, as is shown by the fact that 40,000 physicians in the United States and Canada unite in recommending them to their patients for stomach disorders.

We do not claim or expect Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets to cure anything but disordered conditions of the stomach and other digestive organs, but this they never fail to do. They work upon the inner lining of the stomach and intestines, stimulate the gastric glands and aid in the secretion of juices necessary to digestion.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box. One box will frequently effect a perfect cure. In doubt and wish more adequate proof, send us your name and address and we will gladly mail you a sample package free. E. A. Stuart Co., 61 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

MARRIED IN SECRET EIGHT MONTHS AGO; FRIEND JUST TOLD

Happy Couple Waited Until Cottage Was Ready Before Parents Were Informed of Ceremony Performed in San Jose.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 12.—It was just eight months ago that George A. Davis and Miss Annie Andersen left Alameda and were secretly married at San Jose by Rev. S. D. Hunsbiller of the First Methodist church. For just eight months the couple kept the news of the wedding from their relatives and friends and not until yesterday was it made known that the two were husband and wife. The announcement came as a great surprise to the parents of the couple, but the parental blessings were freely given, and now Mrs. Davis is living at the home of her husband until he is ready to build a cottage.

The groom of eight months is well known here and is in the employ of a large San Francisco plumbing supply house. He resides at 1382 Broadway, while his bride has been living with her mother, at 3238 Encinal avenue. She is a graduate of the schools here and has many friends. Davis met his bride at a social affair given here, and it was but a few months after that they decided to get married. The trip was made to the Garden City in the strictest of secrecy and not even the closest friends of the couple had an inkling of the joyful secret. Belated congratulations are now being received.

MRS. ANNIE DAVIS, whose secret marriage eight months ago has just been made public.

GASPIPE THUGS FIND AN EASY VICTIM

Rendered Senseless Before He Catches a Glimpse of His Assailants.

BERKELEY, Nov. 12.—Gaspipe or blimp-shot thugs have made their appearance in the college town. With a blunt instrument, Robert Jones, a delivery wagon driver, was struck down as he was making his way home on Channing way Saturday night, and his pockets rifled, the footpad getting away before the police could arrive.

According to the story Jones told the police, the robber approached him from behind and struck him over the left eye. He was rendered unconscious by the blow. He did not catch a glimpse of his assailant, and it was half an hour before he regained consciousness.

As he stumbled to his feet, he bumped into a passerby. While still in a dazed condition he told of his experience. The stranger promised to report the robbery to the police on his way downtown, but nothing was known of the case until noon. As yet no trace has been found of the footpad.

LAW IS BLOCK TO BIG HOTEL

Suit to Establish Title to Proposed Hostelry Brought by Maria Ballard.

BERKELEY, Nov. 12.—A suit has been begun in the Superior Court against Louis of this city and the Claremont Hotel Company that may stop the building of the big tourist hotel in the Berkeley hills and compel a change in the plans laid out for the caravansary. Maria V. Ballard, the former owner of the magnificent Ballard park purchased by Titus for the hotel people, has brought the suit. She wants Titus and the hotel company to establish their title to the land, which she says has become clouded because of certain "errors" in the deed covering the land, which Titus himself was allowed to draw up.

According to Hewlett, Bancroft and Ballantine, attorneys for Mrs. Ballard, in her contract with the hotel company, she acted as agent. Mrs. Ballard stipulated that she was to have a right way through the hotel property to the beach, but that she reserved the right for her private use. This right of way was for a carriage drive. She also stipulated that she was to be permitted to trim the gum trees that separated the property so that her view would not be obstructed. Thirdly, she stipulated that the Prather survey was to serve as a description of the property sold. In her complaint Mrs. Ballard alleges that Titus in drawing the deed did not follow the contract, but omitted all reference to the right of way and to the gum trees and that he incorporated a description of the property sold that is not the Prather survey, but a description of a true description, but which gives the hotel more property than they are entitled to. She claims that the hotel is being built on the northeast corner of the Ballard park, and that she has been forced to take a detour to the beach and that she has been forced to take a detour to the beach and that she has been forced to take a detour to the beach.

SWEETVOICED GIRL, LEADER IN SOCIETY, TO BE JUNE BRIDE

MISS OLIVE MORRISH, a society girl, whose engagement has been announced.

Miss Olive Morrish and Dr. S. P. Strange Announce Their Engagement to Friends in Berkeley.

BERKELEY, Nov. 12.—College town society has only recently learned of the engagement of Miss Olive Morrish to Dr. S. P. Strange, a graduate of Stanford University. The wedding will probably take place in June. The bride-elect is well known in Berkeley and Oakland, both as a leader in society and as a soprano of sweet voice.

For the past two years she has been the leading soprano of the Trinity Methodist Church of Berkeley. She is also identified with the Intermediate Society of that church.

Dr. Strange, who has won the heart of Miss Morrish, graduated from Stanford with the class of 1904.

SURVIVED RIGORS OF AN ARCTIC WINTER

ALAMEDA WOMAN ICE-BOUND WAS PRISONER 10 MONTHS.

Mrs. Cook Ready Again to Follow Her Captain Husband to Far North.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 12.—For just one year, Mrs. Ella Cook was benighted in a Point Barrow, the most northerly point of land in America, suffering privations that would have made the stout heart of a man quail, but which she lived bravely through and acted as a great help to her husband, whose vessel was wrecked in the ice pack in October of 1903.

It was in May of 1904 that Mrs. Cook left San Francisco with her husband, Captain Philip Cook, on the supply vessel Laura Maden. After supplying the fourteen missionary stations on the Alaskan coast, Captain Cook headed the vessel for Point Barrow, the extreme northerly point of land on this hemisphere. While unloading supplies for the missionaries at the point, the ice swooped down and held the vessel so tightly in its clutches that it was impossible to escape, and fearing that the vessel would be wrecked should a storm come up, Captain Cook ordered that it be abandoned. That his judgment was correct was shown three days later when the vessel was broken up on the beach and pounded to pieces.

Captain and Mrs. Cook and five members of the crew took quarters at the home of the missionary. Rations were low and there was no firewood. When the vessel had been abandoned Mrs. Cook had taken a cat and a canary bird ashore with her. The cat did not live long. The dogs of the natives were particularly ravenous and the cat died in a matter of days. The canary bird fared better and is now singing at the Cook home at 1008 Central avenue. The bird became so tame that it came to the hand of its mistress and is given the freedom of the house. It has never attempted to fly since.

The winter at Point Barrow was particularly severe and a small stove that had been taken from the vessel served to keep the natives warm and happy when it was 65 degrees below zero. The wood from the wrecked vessel served as fuel and Captain Cook spent most of his time in sawing it into pieces to fit the stove.

From October until August of this year, Captain and Mrs. Cook lived at Point Barrow, benighted by the ice and fearing to take the trip overland. It was a happy day when on August 15 the ice broke and the vessel was able to sail. Mrs. Cook told the revenue cutter Thetis had arrived. Captain Hamlet, the commander of the cutter, general order to take Captain Cook and his wife to Nome. The invitation was accepted and after arriving in Nome the home of the Alameda woman was reached. Mrs. Cook did not forget the canary and it now sings at her home to remind her of the hardships of a long year in the Arctic. She has a new cat and never knowing if the provisions would hold out until a boat arrived, Mrs. Cook is ready for another trip and has no fears of the awful solitude of a year spent there but few whites have ever been.

WAS MARKED BY SIEMSEN

Alameda Man Believes the Gaspipe Thugs Planned to Rob Him.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 12.—W. B. Egan, a well-known merchant operator, who lives here on Cedar street, believes he was the intended victim of Siemsen and Dabner, the thugs who are now being tried for murder in San Francisco. Egan was well acquainted with Dabner, having known him for years at Petaluma, and while in that city a month ago met the two men. They were good spenders and treated Egan lavishly. Siemsen wanted him to stay in the city during the night and around but Egan refused and came to his home here. He believes that the two men intended that he should fall victim to their murderous acts, as they knew he had considerable money on him at the time.

POLICE DOUBT HOLDUP TALE

Andrew Lund Badly Beaten and Tells Story of Robbery by Thugs.

ALAMEDA, Nov. 12.—Andrew Lund, an employee of the Encinal Yacht club, claims he was robbed and brutally beaten last night by two thugs on the Fruitvale bridge which spans the estuary between Alameda and Fruitvale, and was left senseless in the road from the blows of one of his assailants.

According to the story told the police, Lund had been drinking with a couple of strangers at a saloon near the bridge. When he left the saloon the men followed him, and as he was crossing the bridge, one of them pulled a revolver and commanded him to stop. The other man then pulled a club from his pocket and struck Lund over the head. He was knocked unconscious by the blows and did not recover his senses for fifteen minutes. An automobile party on the way to the city found the man lying on the bridge, and offered to take him to his home, at 1533 Fountain street. His pockets had been rifled and $4 taken. Lund notified the police of the hold-up and declared he could identify the men. He stated to Officer Moebius that the men were each about twenty years of age and that he had seen them before in saloons in this city.

Detective W. E. Martin took Lund to the saloons and cigar stores along Park street last night, but they were unable to find the men.

There is no doubt that Lund was beaten badly, but whether by foot-kicks or in a drunken brawl, the police do not know. They believe it strange that two men whom Lund knew would hold him up, when he was sure to be able to identify them later on.

The police place little credence in the story of the hold-up, and believe that Lund was beaten in a saloon brawl.

FIRE STARTED IN EAST HALL

Quick Action by the University Brigade Prevents a Serious Conflagration.

BERKELEY, Nov. 12.—Serious loss to the University of California by fire was prevented yesterday morning by the quick action of George Watson, the University fire chief and the members of the Pyra Club who constitute the campus fire brigade. Thin wreaths of smoke were discovered issuing from the upper story of East Hall about 11 o'clock by a passing member of the Pyra Club who immediately gave the alarm. The blaze, which had been started from the explosion of an incubator, had already made considerable headway between the walls, but it was extinguished after a few minutes of work with a fire hose, which is kept in readiness in the building.

The loss will be slight and the university authorities, however, consider themselves fortunate that the fire was discovered so soon, for had it been given greater headway, the valuable Agassiz collection of zoological specimens would undoubtedly have been destroyed by the flames.

Within a few feet of East Hall is the University library with its priceless collection of rare books and manuscripts which could not have been replaced—not to speak of the hundred thousand or more volumes which circulate among the students.

CONTRACTOR FAILED TO PLACE LIGHTS

OAKLAND MAN IS VICTIM OF PARALYSIS

ALAMEDA, Nov. 12.—Frank Gilbreth, the contractor who is erecting the building for the Citizens Bank, was taken into custody on Saturday night and immediately allowed to go on bail, for failure to place lights on the obstructions in the street near the building.

SANTA CRUZ MAN HAS ALAMEDA BRIDE

ALAMEDA, Nov. 12.—Thomas Thurmond, a Santa Cruz merchant, was married here on Saturday night to Miss Annette Robertson, a San Francisco girl, at the home of U. R. Grant at 2112 Clement avenue. The ceremony was performed by Justice R. B. Tappan. After the ceremony the couple left for the Santa Cruz, where they will make their home.

LIVELY TIME AT IDORA

University Boys Hold Theater Rally at the Popular Resort.

One of the most exciting, as well as one of the most interesting, sights ever witnessed in Oakland was the one presented at Idora Park Saturday night, when the University of California boys held their evening rally.

The boys had the entire lower floor of the theater. They made things lively with their songs and college yells. Ferris Hartman gave them a run for their money.

Good order prevailed during the play and ruffianism had no part in the rally. It was a great scene and the whole affair was a great success. The boys were a fine showing and they deserve credit for their good behavior. The players all took an interest in the rally and all remarks were taken in good part.

Manager Pilling deserves the greatest credit for the rally he handled the whole affair. He certainly had one of the most successful theater rallies ever held in the State.

WEBSTER STREET IS BEING FILLED IN

ALAMEDA, Nov. 12.—The Oakland Traction Company has started filling in the Webster-street roadway between its tracks. The work is being done at the order of the city trustees who, at the last meeting, decided that should the company not start the work within a reasonable time action would be taken in the courts to compel the work to be done. The Southern Pacific Company has been notified by the city clerk that should the tracks on Central and Encinal avenues be allowed to remain in such a poor condition steps will be taken to compel the company to do the work.

TEACHERS OFFER SERVICES TO BENEFIT WORKING GIRL

Physical Culture and Language Classes Formed at Oakland Young Women's Association.

In order to give to the working girls of Oakland many advantages of an education which ordinarily only the young women of greater means can have, Miss Grace Fisher, formerly a teacher in the Oakland High school, has organized an educational department in the Young Women's Christian Association of Oakland. Classes in physical culture, Spanish, French, English literature, English grammar, music and a special course in travel have been arranged. Well-known teachers have agreed to devote certain hours each week to the work. The movement started several months ago, upon the return of Miss Fisher from an extended tour of the European countries for a year and a half. Two weeks ago the first lessons were given, and at the present time there are over fifty girls taking advantage of the opportunity of improving their knowledge. Fifty more are expected to be added to the department.

There are several hundred young women employed in Oakland as clerks, stenographers, typewriters and in kindred occupations, whose education has been limited to perhaps seven or eight years in the grammar schools, or perhaps a course in a business college; and then there are the greater portion of the girls employed as clerks who have not even had the benefit of a grammar school education. Their hours of labor are long. They eke out a livelihood of but a few dollars a week. It is to upraise, to educate these young women that Miss Fisher has resigned her position in the Oakland High school and agreed to devote her time to the educational department of the Young Women's Christian Association. She has associated with her such teachers as Miss S. M. Witchie, versed in physical culture; Mrs. Charles H. Greenleaf, a noted teacher of French, and the latter's husband, who is a Spanish teacher; Miss Alice Wythe, exponent of English literature; Miss Cora Jackson and Alex T. Stewart, the former a pianist, the latter a violinist, who are to teach music. Miss Fisher will give a course in travel, speaking from personal observations made during her recent tour of Europe.

"This work we are doing is not that of the philanthropist," said Miss Fisher yesterday. "We are doing it in the spirit of Christianity. The system has been tried with success in most of the larger cities of America and is not new, though Los Angeles is the only city in California where such work is done by the Young Women's Christian Association. Our working girls are the ones who need the benefits of the higher education. In five of Oakland's largest departments and dry goods stores there are 750 young women employed. It is our plan to reach each and every one of these young women desirous of benefiting themselves and preparing for something better than mere drudgery.

"To those who have had better school training than others we have advanced study in English, music, French and Spanish. I have made it a point to secure the best teachers, and I feel more than grateful to those who have kindly offered their services free for the sake of Oakland's working girls. Just think what it means to a young woman with but scant means to get an education of high order, an opportunity to study music—the violin, guitar, piano, or any other of the branches that ordinarily would be beyond their reach."

AMERICAN GIRL TO LEAD WORLD IN GRAND OPERA

Austrian Musician Says Europe Is Prone to Deprecate Their Successes in Foreign Centers.

BY MARIE LUKSCH.

Of the Vienna Conservatory of Music, who is now in New York.

In the American girl students at the Vienna Conservatory I have always found reason to take particular delight and a tendency in New York to deprecate the achievements of your women in music, but we have no such feeling abroad. The American girl is different from her sisters of any other land and the difference is greatly in her favor. We have young women pupils from Bohemia, Hungary, Croatia, Italy, and, of course, from all over my own Germany.

Many of the girls of European countries have exquisite natural voices and most graceful carriage, but none of them is as quick in catching a thought or as ready to take hold of a suggestion as the American girl. She seldom has to be told twice, her mind is wonderfully alert, and she is always seeking and finding the short way. And withal she has the temperament, the soul.

I am firm in the belief that the American girl will some day lead the world in opera—it—and there is an important if—she will but cultivate the patience to delve deeply, and the immortal dissatisfaction with anything but the best. For that is the one fault of the average American student. She reaches results with great rapidity and thus is too soon satisfied with them, while her more plodding sisters of the Old World go on in travail to finer heights of feeling and beauty.

As your American skyscrapers must have large and solid foundations, so must the musician build with care and infinite pains a foundation of profound understanding.

BAD TEMPER IN WOMEN CURED BY STUDY OF LAW

Angry Passions Calmed When Subjected to the Discipline Entailed in Parliamentary Rules.

BY MRS. CORA WELLES TROW.

Parliamentary law is the logical antidote for bad temper. Angry passions, however vivid, once subjected to the discipline entailed by its use in argument, are calmed. Its first requirement is the proper ordering of thought. Old-fashioned people, who counted one hundred before they spoke, in moments of stress, were not far wrong. In this latter day no one can possibly consider the parliamentary points at issue and at the same time give rein to wrath. The two are absolutely incompatible. The misconception that exists in the mind of the average clubwoman in regard to the use of parliamentary law would be amusing were it not pathetic. "We are a club of ladies," said one clever club president. "We create an atmosphere of courtesy, and parliamentary law would be a discordant note." Yet the pity of it is that this same club has provided countless stories for the papers on account of its unseemly wrangles.

Where parliamentary law reigns disorder is unknown. Every Denver club reflects the spirit of its presiding officer. When she is weak and incapable, the club becomes lawless and the members self-assertive. If the president be a strong character, the club becomes a tool for the carrying out of her individual will, and loses all standing as a self-governing organization. "I want such a matter passed," said a president recently, "passed without discussion," and it was.

In clubs, and in clubs alone, woman has the best opportunity of age presents for developing her individuality. In many instances we see her following the example of the other sex and cheerfully submitting to boss rule, under which she becomes a machine for the carrying out of a will not her own.

Parliamentary law teaches us, first, to discuss no question until it is logically stated; second, that only one person can speak at one time; third, that both sides must be heard before any conclusion can be reached. And this conclusion is the demonstration of the principle upon which our government is founded—the carrying into execution of the will of the majority.

Where procedure is enforced no one member is able to take up the time of the club by stating her views on a question not under consideration. And Cut shows Frank C. Marlin and Sophie Beck. Marlin, also known as "Judge Stone," who is wanted on the charge of embezzling $1,000,000, is believed to be in New York. Sophie Beck, his companion, is here and this has led to the theory that Marlin is hiding not legally separate and remarry on such grounds as the law now allows.

He said that many judges who now issue decrees of divorce almost daily take such action against their better judgment. Some of them, the archbishop declared, are opposed to divorce, but as they are chosen, not to make the laws, but to execute them, they are powerless to remedy the condition. He spoke of the skepticism and agnosticism that is becoming almost a creed with numerous men and women who formerly adhered to other faiths than the Catholic religion, urging good Catholics to live such upright lives as to bring non-believers into the church, and to make converts by the force of good example.

"We don't want laws on our statute books to favor the undermining of our homes," asserted the prelate. "We can't blame the numerous divorces on our judges. They are not responsible. Many of them have no belief in separating man and wife, but they are chosen to execute the laws and are powerless. When the home is broken up, mother and children are often torn apart. You can see the effect of this on the community. For our government is as good or as bad as our citi-

LAXITY OF DIVORCE LAWS RUINS SANCTITY OF STATE

Very Rev. George Montgomery Urges the Parishioners to Have More Stringent Statutes Passed in California.

Before a devout and attentive congregation that filled every pew and crowded the aisles of St. Mary's church, the Very Rev. George Montgomery, coadjutor archbishop of the great see of California, in San Francisco, yesterday morning preached against the divorce evil and the legislation which makes easy divorces possible. He declared that lax laws and laxer thinking on the subject of divorce are undermining the stability of the State by ruining the sanctity of the home, and urged his hearers to exert themselves to have the statutes so modified that man and wife may by thus sifting out extraneous matter and keeping to the subject in hand many pitfalls are avoided and emotions left unaroused.

GUN FALLS INTO CELLAR AND KILLS A WOMAN

SPOKANE, Nov. 12.—Mrs. F. W. Esgate placed a gun outside the house, in readiness to kill a coyote lurking about, and went indoors. When the coyote again appeared, she called her husband, who was digging potatoes in the field, meanwhile she went into the cellar.

When her husband reached for the gun it slid into the cellar and was discharged, the charge of shot passing into the neck of Mrs. Esgate. Her husband was so terrified at the sight of his wife bleeding to death that he caught up a small child, ran to the house of a neighbor some distance away, and when he returned home with assistance his wife, from loss of blood, was dying. The Esgates live about three miles southeast of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho.

IT'S THE FOOD.

The True Way to Correct Nervous Troubles.

Nervous troubles are more often caused by improper food and indigestion than most people imagine. Even doctors sometimes overlook this fact. A man says: "Until two years ago waffles and butter with meat and gravy were the main features of my breakfast. Finally dyspepsia came on and I found myself in a bad condition, worse in the morning than any other time. I would have a full, sick feeling in my stomach, with pains in my heart, sides and head."

"At times I would have no appetite for days, then I would feel ravenous, never satisfied when I did eat, and so nervous I felt like shrieking at the top of my voice. I lost flesh badly and hardly knew which way to turn until one day I bought a box of Grape-Nuts food to see if I could eat that. I tried it without telling the doctor, and liked it fine; made me feel as if I had something to eat that was satisfying and still I didn't have that heaviness that I had felt after eating any other food."

"I hadn't drank any coffee then in five weeks. I kept on with the Grape-Nuts and in a month and a half I had gained fifteen pounds, could eat almost anything I wanted, didn't feel badly after eating and my nervousness was all gone. It's a pleasure to be well again."

DYED HIS WHISKERS TO MATCH WEDDING DRESS

Gallant Swain After Three Trials Marched to Altar With Beard of Bright Scarlet Hue.

CARVER, Ont., Nov. 12.—A romance of the French Canadian settlement to the north of here came to an untimely end and ending a week ago because an indulgent aunt presented the bride with a scarlet wedding dress. This may seem an odd cause for breaking off a love affair that had been progressing ardently for a couple of years, but it did, temporarily.

Peter Lovejoy and Marie Larocque announced their engagement a year ago and when pretty Marie's prosperous aunt in Montreal heard of it she straightway wrote a letter to her favorite niece telling her that her wedding gift should be the bridal gown and asking her to select the color. Marie has dark hair, rosy cheeks and an artistic temperament, and, after due thought, she asked for a deep maroon, thinking that would go best with her brilliant brunette complexion.

In due time the coveted parcel arrived by express and stage and Marie, in the ecstasies of unbounded delight, opened it. Instead of maroon the handsome cloth was a pinkish red, and pretty Marie almost swooned.

"Why, what in the world is the matter?" demanded Mrs. Larocque, throwing the wondrous garment over her daughter's shoulders. "It harmonizes to a T."

"Send for Peter," demanded the girl, vainly trying to suppress her hysterical sobs. "Send for Peter, quick." (Then Mrs. Larocque saw. Peter is (or was) the possessor of long and luxuriant whiskers grown in abundance to cover an ugly scar on his chin. Those whiskers would never go with that gown, the scar would never go at a wedding and there was no time to change the dress. This may be hazardous to mankind, but women will understand.)

It was up to the mother to explain to Peter, for the daughter couldn't trust herself to look at him in the same room with the wondrous garment, so as gently as she could she broke the news. But if good Mrs. Larocque had any idea that she was going to lose her prospective son-in-law by so simple a combination as dress, whiskers and scar, she was happily disappointed.

"That's nothing at all," he declared as cheerfully as the circumstances would permit. "We'll use a little dye."

"On the dress?" gasped the nervous woman.

""zens collectively make it, and the one who grows to manhood under the guidance of a good mother is a better citizen than the one who lacked that care in his youth."

"No, ma'am; on the whiskers," replied Peter with determination. Mrs. Larocque was filled with conflicting emotions. She wondered what the neighbors would say, how her daughter would take it and if the dye could be washed off when the gown wore out. She was sorely perplexed, but Peter settled all questions once and for all.

"By tomorrow morning every hair on my head will match this," he declared, taking a lock from his pocket filled with Marie's first-rate embezzlement. "I'll match that dress or die in the attempt."

It was a pretty good match if it did take three trials and the couple were married according to program. The neighbors marveled but, being of the polite kind, said nothing and if any one secreted a guilty conscience it wasn't Peter.

AN AGED PHYSICIAN

After Years of Experience Gives the Following Advice.

"If you have anything to do with medicines at all be pretty sure you know what you are taking."

Mr. Parker of The Owl Drug Co., says this is a strong point in favor of their valuable cod liver oil preparation, Vinol. Everything it contains is plainly printed on the label, therefore it is not a patent medicine.

Vinol contains in a highly concentrated form all of the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers, but with the useless, nauseating oil eliminated and tonic iron, which is a needful constituent for the blood, added.

This is the reason that Vinol accomplishes such wonderful results in curing chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis and lung troubles, and there is nothing known to medicine that will so quickly build up the run down, overworked, tired and debilitated, or give strength and renewed vitality to the aged, as Vinol.

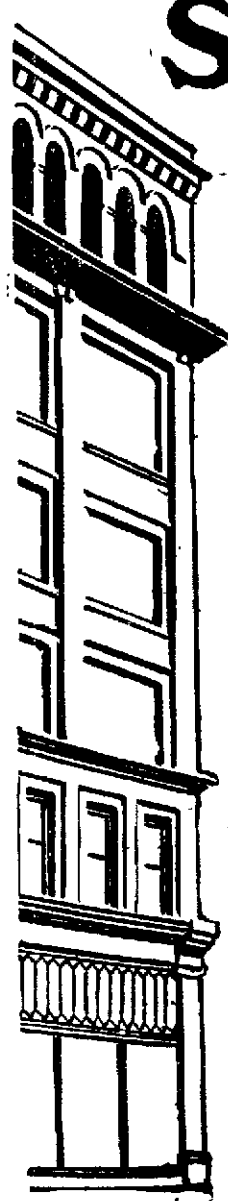

We can only ask every person in Oakland who needs such a medicine to try Vinol on our offer to return their money if it fails. The Owl Drug Co. Note.—While we are sole agents for Vinol in Oakland, it is now for sale at the leading drug stores in nearly every town and city in the country. Look for the Vinol agency in your town.

FASTIDIOUS WOMEN consider Paxtine Toilet Antiseptic a necessity in the hygienic care of the person and for local treatment of feminine ills. As a wash its cleansing, germicidal, deodorizing and healing qualities are extraordinary. For sale at Drugists. Sample free. Address: The R. Paxton Co., Boston, Mass.

The Tribune's Triumph.

THE TRIBUNE recorded another journalistic triumph Saturday afternoon, for it was the only Oakland paper which issued an extra to furnish the public with a report of the big intercollegiate Rugby football contest between Stanford and California on the latter's gridiron. THE TRIBUNE'S extra was, however, not only a report of the result of the great football match, in which everybody throughout the State was more or less intensely interested, but it contained a complete account of every detail of importance in the game from start to finish, sent direct by an expert from the press stand, located on the grounds, to The Tribune editorial rooms over a special wire.

THE TRIBUNE was, in fact, the only paper in California which had the enterprise to install a special wire on the grounds, and as a result it was able to put its extra on the street, containing twenty-four pages and the complete story of the contest, twelve minutes after the sound of the whistle announcing the close of the game.

The public appreciated THE TRIBUNE'S enterprise and showed their interest in the initial intercollegiate Rugby match by snapping up the papers as fast as the newsboys could hand them out on the streets. The sales were enormous; and the demand for THE TRIBUNE extra continued until after 1 o'clock Sunday morning.

Of course, the manner in which the news of the intercollegiate contest was handled and the promptness and completeness with which it was given to the public, were merely additional demonstration that THE TRIBUNE is Oakland's greatest newspaper, and that it is second to none on the Pacific Coast for enterprise, alertness and expedition.

Even the San Francisco newspapers are now taking notice of the extraordinary activity of the real estate market in Oakland. Prices have advanced here greatly in the past six months, more than quadrupling in some sections; but, after all, land in Oakland, both residential and business property, is cheap today compared to what it undoubtedly will be in another six months. Wise investors are looking well ahead and taking advantage of the situation, as is evidenced by the numerous sales of property recorded each week.

Oakland's Extraordinary Expansion.

Oakland's continued expansion is as phenomenal as it is unprecedented. At no period in its history has its growth approached that of the present time. Not a day passes without the initiation of new improvements in some part or other, and, in all directions, scenes of great activity in building are in evidence.

The character of many of the structures in course of erection and of others, for the laying of whose foundations preparations are being made, is strictly modern and substantial. A metropolitan era in the development of the city has set in. Within a few weeks the walls of a large number of buildings of the most modern metropolitan type will be in course of erection. In fact, some of them are now being constructed. Millions of dollars are being invested here at present in new structures, and plans of local improvements involving the expenditures of many millions more are being matured.

A year hence Oakland will be a new city. It may be truly said, in fact, that it has been made a new city within the past six months. But the promise is good that the Oakland of today will scarcely be recognizable in that of a year hence.

Much of the warehousing and manufacturing carried on in San Francisco before the catastrophe of last April has come to Oakland to stay. Important discoveries have been made regarding the value of Oakland's location to these important interests. It has resulted in their installation in increasing numbers in the neighborhood of the water front and the railroads, and in an extraordinary demand at greatly advanced prices for property along the harbor front suitable for warehousing and manufacturing. The expansion of the business section of the city is, however, one of the most remarkable as well as one of the most interesting developments of the times. The older residential quarters are being invaded and their inhabitants ruthlessly driven out to seek shelter elsewhere and to make room for business concerns, for business has no respect for sentiment. The present area of the central business quarter is today at least one-third greater than it was six months ago, and still the work of expansion goes on with increasing vigor and without the slightest indication of its arrest.

A SUGGESTION TO OAKLAND BANKERS.

Editor Tribune:—In line with your request for ideas on matters of importance to Oakland from a subscriber's point of view, I would like to speak of one I consider very important to a large number of citizens. I refer to the hours of banking. There are thousands of workmen in Oakland that have no opportunity of depositing their earnings on account of banks being closed at the only time they are free from their work. Married men can send their money by their wives, but the single man has his money in his pocket, an easy prey to holdups or the hundred and one easy ways of spending money over Sunday, if it is loose in his pocket.

The savings banks of all cities in the Middle West keep open doors on Wednesday and Saturday evenings till 9 o'clock to receive deposits of workmen, those being the pay days of most factories. Thousands of workmen receive their pay at noon on Saturday in Oakland, but the banks are just as prompt to close at noon on that day.

If the savings banks of Oakland would keep open Saturday evening to receive workmen's deposits, I think they would see a substantial gain in that line of business and a lasting benefit to thousands of Oakland citizens.

Oakland, November 12, 1906.

The morbid adulation of notorious criminals by weak and impulsive women is being again exemplified in the case of the San Francisco thugs, Semsen and Dabner, who are held in custody charged with several of the most cold-blooded murders in the annals of crime on the Pacific Coast. Disregarding all the canons of common decency, some of this class of women have begun to display the same kind of hero-worship toward these two monsters as was bestowed on that other monster, Durrant, by seeking interviews with them in their cells and presenting them with bouquets of flowers.

Drastic measures should be adopted by the custodians of these prisoners to prevent the enactment of such scenes, and put an effective stop to all hero-worship of the kind. The garbage can is the proper place for the consignment of all floral tributes which weak-minded women with misguided sympathy or warped affection, desire to have presented to them.

A fierce conflict between a band of Greeks and Bulgarians in Macedonia indicates that the Balkans are still in a state of disorder and a menace to the peace of Europe, for this part of the continent has been for many decades regarded as the danger point.

Conquest of the Colorado.

The conquest of the Colorado river and its compulsory return to its old channel to discharge its waters into the Gulf of California, will go down in history as an achievement of modern engineering of the highest order. The escape of this erratic stream from its old bed and its invasion of the Colorado desert, the gradual rising of the waters in the Salton basin, the prospective restoration of the ancient inland sea, which covered the floor of the desert, the destruction of the largest salt works in the West, the threatened inundation of about one hundred miles of railroad track and the imperiling of one of the youngest, thriftiest and most promising settlements in the southern part of the State, constitute an old story.

It is over two years since the Colorado river broke through its banks at the headworks of the irrigation canal constructed by the California Development Company for the purpose of wresting Imperial valley from the desert. The latter had been practically accomplished, for nearly two hundred square miles, on which not a blade of grass was growing before the fructifying waters of the river were spread over it, had been brought under a high state of cultivation and yielded products worth many millions of dollars annually. All of this work the erratic conduct of the river threatened to destroy and bring ruin to the homes of a large and prosperous community.

It has taken nearly two years of persistent effort, directed by the highest order of engineering, to drive the river back into its old bed, and it has cost the Southern Pacific Company, which financed the work, about $1,000,000 to save its own property and the business which the development of the desert settlement has created for it. The result secured is, however, worth every cent of the outlay. The control of the river now gives promise for the redemption of an extensive area of the desert and its return to its old channel relieves the United States and Mexican governments from riparian complications which might have been very embarrassing to both. Doubtless steps will be taken now to prevent any repetition of the river's experiences of the past years.

A potato famine impends over a large part of the west of Ireland. In the counties of Mayo, Galway, Sligo, Roscommon and Clare, blight has invaded the fields, and in the two former counties the crop is already pronounced a failure. Of the 600,000 acres planted to potatoes in Ireland about one-fifth is in the five affected counties. The disease has also made its appearance on the other side of St. George's Channel—in North Wales, where the crop is said to be the worst in twenty years. In Western Scotland, also, it is reported to be rapidly spreading. If the British Isles had a Luther Burbank he would probably produce a seedling fiber for them immune from the blight. The latter is supposed to be due to overplanting the land without changing the seed potato. It has been noted that a long succession of crops obtained from the seed of one variety invariably results in the weakening of the plant and its surrender to the disease.

NEXT.

It's Hearst and Bryan and Parker,
It's Taft and Teddy and Root,
It's Beveridge every hour of the day
So busily tooting his toot;
It's trusts and tariff and Cuba,
Panama, Patrick and Thaw;
It's Fairbanks, Cannon and Addicks,
Jerome and Murphy and Shaw,
The world of the old grows weary,
It longs for the new and strange,
It's sick and tired of the same old thing,
And it cries out loud for a change!

It's Tarbell and White, and Steffens;
It's Bangs, and Howell and Twain;
It's "Crisis" and "Pit" and "Jungle,"
And "Jungle" and "Crisis" again;
It's Dixon and Booker and Tillman,
It's negro and cotton and oil;
It's laughter and preaching and praying,
It's sorrow and suffering and toil;
It's always the same thing over,
And always the same to do;
The world goes dry and none answer the cry
When it cries out loud for the new.

AS IT HAPPENED.

She was comely, very comely,
And he gazed upon her dully,
With a feeling of affection mixed with awe.
"Speak," he cried, "my queenly beauty,
Tell me what shall be my duty."
Then she murmured, "Twenty-three"—
He twenty-four.

Once again he came a-wooing,
Came with tingling ardor suing,
For the greatness of his love could not be hid.
But, alas, his hopes were shattered,
And his dreams of joy were scattered,
For she told him to "skiddoo,"
And he skidded.

SOME PASSING JESTS.

"Chief," said the Czar, calling his chief of detectives.
"Yes, your majesty," replied the chief.
"The evening paper says the revolutionists will throw no more bombs, but will poison officials hereafter."
"It is true, your majesty. The revolutionists have so decided."

Only a Trifle Gone.

The editor of a paper in Western Indiana declares it to be a fact that a "cub" reporter on an Evansville sheet, in describing the murder of a man in an adjacent town, wired his paper as follows: "Murderer evidently in quest of money. MAY-BAYLEY.

The marriage of Miss Lucy Mary May and Austin N. Bailey was solemnized Thursday evening at the home of the bride in Berkeley. Rev. L. D. Rathbone was the officiating clergyman.

There were no attendants, but the house was elaborately decorated for the occasion. After a honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Bailey will occupy a pretty home on Spruce street.

BARNHART-CHENEY.

An interesting marriage took place Friday evening, when Miss Cora Barnhart became the bride of C. Harry Cheney, son of Warren Cheney, the well-known writer.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Barnhart, brother of the bride. The bride was attended by Miss Florence Davidson and R. McCallister, a fraternity brother of the groom, acted as best man.

Mrs. Cheney is a graduate of the State University and popular in college circles.

Harry Cheney was graduated from the university with the class of 1905. He is a member of the Phi Sigma Delta fraternity and the Winged Helmet, the junior honor society. For more than a year he has been associated with his father in business.

The couple will leave for Paris about the first of the year on a wedding trip. They will be away about two years. During their absence abroad the groom will study architectural engineering in the technical schools of the French metropolis.

RIORDAN-PALMER.

The marriage is announced of Miss Riordan of Alameda and Captain Fred W. Palmer, medical department, U. S. A., which took place last Wednesday at the home of the bride in Alameda. The ceremony was performed by Chaplain P. P. Carey, U. S. A.

Captain and Mrs. Palmer are enjoying a honeymoon trip in Southern California.

IN THE EAST.

Miss Ardella and Miss Beattie Mills have gone east for an extended trip, and are planning to remain away for several weeks.

THE TRIBUNE'S DOUBLE PAGE

WILL ANNOUNCE WEIGHTS TODAY Opening Handicap Figures to Be Given Out--Wishard Will Not Race on Coast.

By LEE DEMIER.

Weights are to be announced this afternoon for the opening handicap.

Enoch Wishard, who announced his intention of racing out here, backed out at the last moment. He gave as a reason that he did not have good enough material for a campaign so far away from home.

To enlighten a turf writer on a San Francisco daily concerning California's best thoroughbreds, it may be said that he has omitted in his list of the same that great horse El Rio Rey, who was considered the best horse that ever looked through a bridle in these parts. This good horse had only started seven times and was returned the winner on seven occasions.

Bookmaker Harry Frolick blew in from the north yesterday. Frolick, who is known from the Pacific coast as a shrewd pencil, will hang up his sign on opening day. Mr. Frolick, who is a prominent member of the F. O. E., it is said was much in evidence in helping the needy of the order during the late calamity.

Bolman and David Boland are waiting for the bugle call. Fountain says they are both ready for the race.

Matt Ries writes from Seattle that he will be on hand when the bell rings.

Harry Green, the Jungle Horseman, will leave Spokane this week for Emeryville.

Trainer Sandy McNaughton arrived from New York yesterday. His horses had arrived at Emeryville a few days earlier.

J. B. Respass disposed of Matthew Gault at Latonia recently for $200.

Report says that "Father Eli" Deily has the fastest yearling in any of the New York tracks. The youngster is by Royal Stag and is a climber for size, being almost sixteen hands now, and is very much like Rouben. So the clockers say. He stepped a quarter the other day in 23 2-5 and didn't seem to be doing his best at that. Daily believes he has a world beater.

George Webb, who trained for Millonaire Murry of Montana at New York last year, will train the horses of Levy Harris at Ascot this winter.

Pat Dunne bought last week two bay yearlings colts by Cesarion, one from Mollie Pitcher and the other from Margaret. The Cesarians have done exceedingly well this year and are well worth owning.

Guy Demming has arrived with old Modicum, the one-time Burns Handicap winner. He says his horse is in good shape.

C. E. Brossman, formerly trainer of Leo, Hoodwink and good horses, was at Latonia the other day. His negotiations for the position of trainer of Lucky Baldwin's horses have fallen through.

Trainer Charles Patterson writes that he will be among the missing this winter. He said that he has engaged himself to John Madden to break yearlings at the Hamburg place in Kentucky.

Trainer Green has a good looking maiden in his barn by the name of Anna H, who is a full sister to Romane.

Trainer Gardner, who has Sinner, Simon, Lem Reed and Spring, Ben, said yesterday that his horses will be ready for the races about a week after the opening.

The horses of Marshall & Hall are on their way from Latonia to Emeryville.

Parasol, a two-year-old filly by Yankee Doodle, the property of Jim Nell, is said to be a fast trick. Trainer Brice said yesterday that he thinks the filly will turn out to be one of the best horses Jim Nell ever owned.

Harry Stover, the master of Kanil-worth, arrived yesterday from Petaluma with nine horses.

"Fox Horn" Bob McGibben, a fresh arrival from New York, was a visitor at the track yesterday.

Superintendent Grant has issued an order that all stable dogs must in the future be tied up.

It is said that the members of the clockers' trust have notified their employers that they will not clock any more horses in the fog.

Louis Seils arrived from Texas yesterday with the following horses: Joe Goss, Jim A. Long, Geo. Kibben, Crescension and Chickieka Maid.

READER—Jockey Fred Farrell rode his first race at Jacksonville, Florida, in 1885. He was born in California.

Lillian Ayers, who has not started since the races closed at St. Louis, was breezing around the track yesterday.

Trainer and Owner J. V. Terry has two sick horses in his barn. He says their ailment is nothing serious.

John Madden (Dealer), who dines up refreshments for Frisco Lind, said yesterday that there was quite a number of Alaska miners quartered around the race track itching for the game to open.

"Dutch" Fisher said this morning that his model clock, which will be heard from the first week.

There was quite a Sunday gathering at Emeryville yesterday, looking over the thoroughbreds.

Superintendent Jim Grant was a busy man at the track yesterday, looking after the placing of the timers' stand. He expects to have the structure in its place today.

Secretary Treat telegraphed Judge Pettigill at Aqueduct yesterday to notify him when the owners who have engaged stall room will ship.

Horse clipping season is on at Emeryville.

Dr. Fitzgerald has blistered his horse Pacerunner.

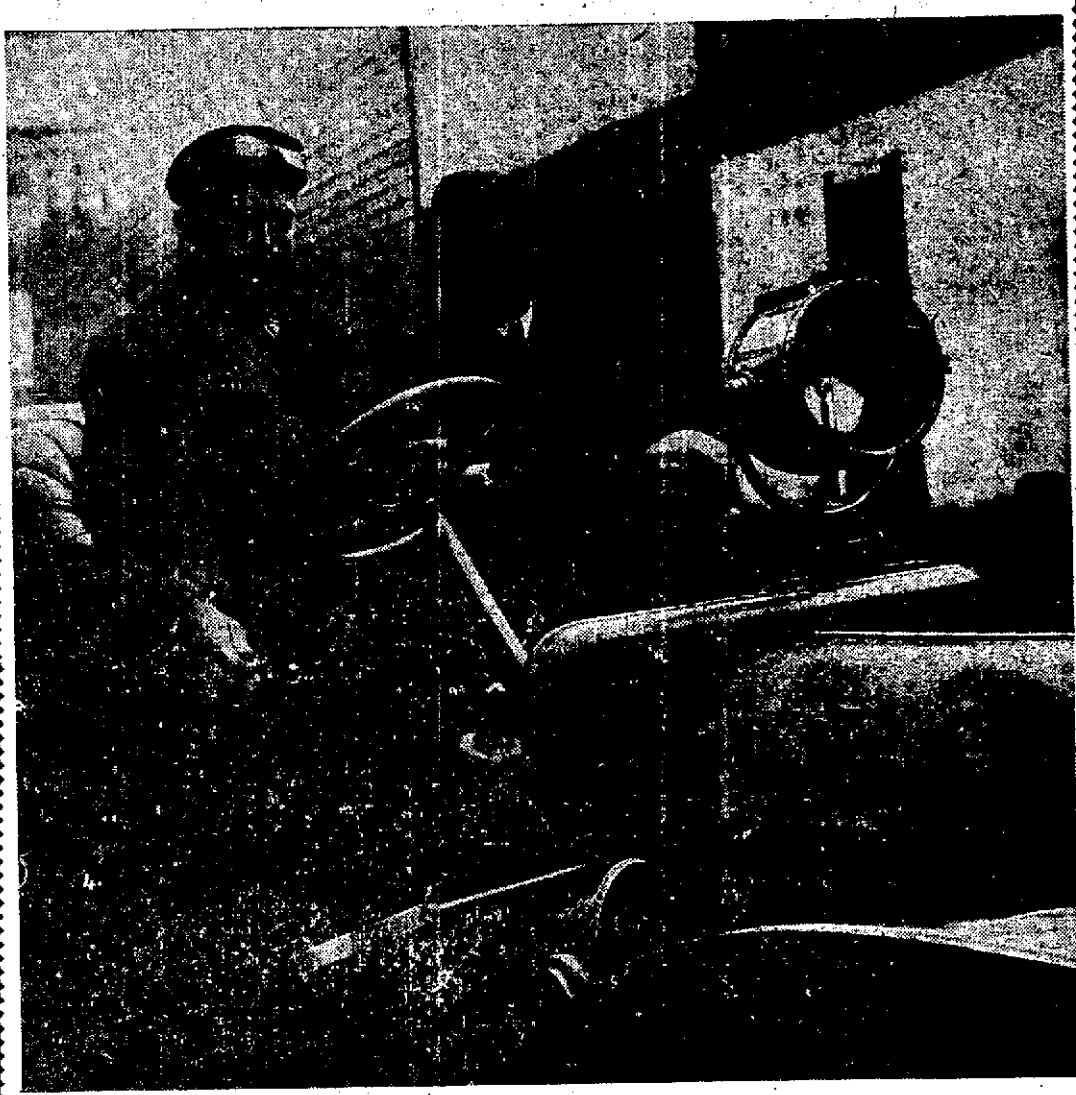

Trainer W. W. Fine has his old campaigner Barklyte in training again. After a year's let-up, Fine said this morning that his horse is rounding to shape and will be ready for the races shortly.

Trainer George Covington is due to arrive from the north with his stable Tuesday.

Ruby, Walter Jennings' good mare, worked a mile in 1:42 yesterday. She is pointed for the opening handicap.

Frank Daroux cleaned up $5000 when Gillett was declared elected the Governor of California.

Starter Dick Dwyer will arrive on Wednesday.

RECORD-BREAKING AUTOISTS.

Burt Saunders at the wheel of the record breaking Columbia, which lowered the record between San Francisco and Los Angeles. Clarence Diehl is at his side. They drove the car from San Francisco to Los Angeles in 4 hours and 17 minutes. They succeeded in bringing carthe roughest roads, and the lowered

BASEBALL SOON TO BE WHOLE WORLD'S SPORT

In a Few Years the Inhabitants of Every Country on the Globe Will Be Playing the Great American National Game.

How long will baseball go on waxing stronger and stronger, and increasing its hold upon the hearts of Americans? Each year sees the great national pastime greater than it was the year before; each decade sees radical changes in its rules, tools and methods, yet it is in its essentials the same game. A decade hence we may see vast stadiums, like unto those of ancient Rome's coliseum, packed with the myriads of rosters, and hear the raucous roar, "Slide, you lobster!" from 100,000 fanatical throats. Why not? Would not the fan of a score of years ago stare could he see the throngs at the Chicago parks during the games for the world's championship, and see nearly as many on the outside roaring for admittance when every inch of space was taken up at double price? By the same token baseball may be only a memory a dozen years from now, says a writer in the Cleveland News.

OSLER DOESN'T FIGURE. Be it known that baseball as it is known today, baseball in any form, is barely three-score years old. The first baseball club was formed in 1845 in New York, the nursery of baseball. This club made the rules for a dozen years, owing responsibility to nobody. The game attained to little popularity and was not played outside of the immediate neighborhood of New York until the Civil War broke out, when it was introduced into the army by soldiers from the metropolis.

Since that time the growth of the grand old game has been a marvel. Why should we place a limit upon the growth in the future? Suppose one had told those grim soldiers of the days of '61 that some of them would see 50,000 people straining and fighting for a chance to see hired men playing this game which amused them when camp duties permitted—this game, which was as yet unknown outside the army! Howl! they would have joshed the prophet!

DARK DAYS. And yet baseball history is not without its dark days, the days when the future of the national athletic sport hung in the balance. And it will have its dark days in the future, too, when a strong guiding hand will be needed to direct its destinies.

The games recently played at Chicago are at once the pride of the whole baseball world and the cause of worry to the leaders of the great game. The enthusiasm was a fever heat, the games orderly and well conducted, the result satisfactory; yet a peril to the sport made itself manifest during these games which must cause every true lover of the game to fear for the safety of the grandest pastime known to man.

Gambling, wholesale, unchecked, unregulated, degraded the whole scene for the world's baseball championship. It was not of the type, which was content to hide in the slums, or, in fact, to seek cover of any sort. It was glaringly, obtrusively evident in all parts of the city, wherever baseball was under discussion.

NO PLACE FOR GAMBLING.

Gambling in baseball has no place. It means suspicion for the players, distrust for the umpires, contempt for the owners. Tin-horn gamblers who lost at Chicago were not slow to yell about "thrown games" and similar tricks which everybody that knows baseball knows is the vilest piffle, not worthy of consideration.

Yet there are plenty of weak-minded people who will be influenced by this hot air. Hysteria repeats itself. In the early '70s every baseball park had its betting pavilion and its wagers. Everywhere suspicion was in the air, not without some cause, for not only the spectators, but the players themselves baseball wagers on the result of games. Baseball degenerated until its very existence was threatened by the mania for gambling and the evils which followed in its train.

CHICAGO TO RESCUE. Curiously enough, it was Chicago that came to the rescue of the game then, even as now it is the giant of the West which has threatened its perversion.

Heroic measures were needed to rescue baseball and Chicago produced the surgeon, William A. Hulbert, who was to amputate gambling from the body game. He did it by the organization of a new league in 1876, and as a protest against gambling, the National League was formed upon the ashes of the old National Association. Gambling was rigidly excluded and any player convicted of having made any wager was expelled, and for that matter, expulsion was made a penalty for a player's associating with a professional gambler. A spectator ventured to offer to bet on the grounds was summarily expelled, and baseball took on a new lease of life.

PLAYERS BET.

In contrast with these conditions, it is asserted and not denied that every player on both Chicago teams which recently played for the world's championship had a wager on the result, under the very eyes of the national commission and the whole baseball world.

Baseball has risen to its present status in spite of what gambling has been done under cover. Will the magnates who have in their keeping the future of this great national game stamp out the evil now, in the bud, as did William Hulbert, Nick Young and their associates in '76, or will they let it grow and thrive until it will require another revolution to keep baseball alive? This is a pertinent question, and one which it behooves the mentors of baseball to cope with.

WHAT IS SAID OF CHASE IN EAST

When Hal Chase, the youthful first baseman of the Yankees, first came to the team a year ago, says a New York Exchange, it was with a reputation of being a clever fielder and a fair batsman. His first season in the big league proved that the assertion as to his cleverness as a batsman had been but half told, and any fears that he was a weak hitter had no solid foundation. Although he played the greater part of last season under the handicap of a badly injured wrist, still he played a game that aroused the admiration of any that saw him. It was predicted that if he opened the present season in good physical condition he would astonish all who had the pleasure of seeing him in action. That prediction has been more than fulfilled. Open-mouthed amazement has been the effect on the cranks who have set at American League Park watching the wonderful work of the brilliant youngster. His play at the bag has exceeded any that ever was in mind with the winner of the diamond, and the assertion that he is today the best first baseman in the game is entirely justified by the character of the work that he is doing in every game.

But with the bat he has also astonished his warmest friends, for he has hit with a steadiness and skill that are not excelled by any other man in his position. He has developed into one of the most scientific batters that ever tapped the ball to the infield, and when men are on bases he is most reliable for a hit that will score runs.

KAUFMANN TO BE "A ACTOR MAN"

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The footlights have won Al Kaufmann. The man who knocked out Sam Berger's championship aspirations is to become a head-liner in a burlesque. Al's representative in this city, Bob Deady, has received a telegram from Kaufmann saying he would be in the east soon, as he has signed a contract for twelve weeks with a theatrical company. This will put off any light which Al might have had in mind with the winner of the Tommy Burns-Jack O'Brien bout for six months at least.

ELLIOTT LIKES NEW STYLE FOOTBALL

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—Football under the new rules as demonstrated in the Harvard-Carlisle game at Cambridge Saturday meets with favorable comment from President Charles W. Elliott of Harvard University. In an interview made public today, President Elliott attended Saturday's contest, and expressed his enjoyment at the game, which he said appeared to him "free from unnecessary roughness."

FITZ BREAKS AN ARM WHILE SPARRING

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Nov. 12.—Bob Fitzsimmons, after a night of suffering, found that he had broken a bone in his right forearm while boxing in his play at a theater the other night.

ROVERS' GOOD WORK TOO LATE

The Vampires won the final preliminary game from the Albion Rovers at Freeman's Park yesterday afternoon by the score of two goals to one. The winners had all the better of the first half and scored their points early, but the Rovers outplayed them in the second and constantly threatened the Vampires' goal. After a brilliant rush McLeod kicked a goal for the Rovers and on several other occasions narrowly missed. For the Vampires the work of Peterson and Hunter in the back field was excellent and Gonkuper McFarland made a fine record for the day.

DEFINITION OF O'BRIEN VALET HURDLING A MYSTERY

There was a game at West Point this season in which the visiting team contended that it was hurdling to step over a man who was stretched out on the ground. If this constituted hurdling, the West Pointers replied, and with reason, all a team had to do to stop the advance of the ball, would be to lie down in front of the runner. Another point with regard to the rules. Some umpires take the ground that it is not up to them to warn players against holding, improper blocking, clenched fists, and the like.

Mr. Outland, the former Pennsylvania player, who is umpiring this year, takes the opposite view. He believes in warning players, and if possible keeping them from doing things that would incur penalties. Of course, he is not moving around warning players all the time, but does so when he thinks the inclination is to do illegal things. He acts on the maxim that prevention is better than cure.

BECKER HIGH IN REVOLVER SHOOT

P. A. Becker made high score in the three days' tournament of the Oakland Revolver club on its twenty-yard indoor range. He competed in five events, and by scoring 238 out of a possible 250, averaged 332. The list of prizes included revolvers, automatic pistols and loving cups. Results showing the total score of each participant, together with the best possible score that could have been made, are as follows:

P. A. Becker, 238 out of 250; J. R. Trago, 224 out of 250; W. C. Frickard, 228 out of 250; Dr. Dudley Smith, 226 out of 250; Colonel S. I. Kellogg, 122 out of 150; L. H. Morris, 118 out of 150; W. P. Goodbury, 115 out of 150; J. A. MacDonald, 112 out of 150; F. Mante, 111 out of 150; A. B. Saurman, 89 out of 100; E. P. Vaughn, 88 out of 100; E. Blanchard, 87 out of 100; A. P. Miller, 84 out of 100; R. Schneider, 83 out of 100; Dr. W. L. Friedman, 78 out of 100; Dr. P. A. Marquette, 75 out of 100; E. G. Durand, 74 out of 100; Dr. H. G. Thomas, 74 out of 100; J. A. Vancorrit, 71 out of 100; Don Tracy, 70

MAY PLAY INDOOR BALL IN THE HOUSE

Desire of American Boy Has at Last Found Way of Fulfillment Through Invention.

To find a way to play baseball at home has long been the ambition of every patriotic American boy.

Any boy who can shoot a marble can play indoor baseball. The "field" should be a bed or large table, with pillows or a pile of books or boxes for a "backstop." An old sheet with a diagram of the diamond in chalk or ink should be spread upon the bed or table, the diamond at one end and the outfield at the other, as on real grounds. The bases should be two feet apart, marked by round spots on the sheet or a silver quarter, and the pitcher's box should be a foot from the home plate, the latter being a postage stamp. The pitcher's and batsman's box should be marked as well as the foul lines.

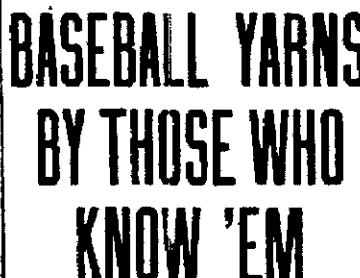

The players are spoons—just ordinary sewing silk or thread spoons—and they are all selected for their ability to roll straight. The name of each player is written on a slip of paper pasted on his head. The nine secured, the ball and bat are all that remain to be found. The former is a marble of medium size. The latter is a round lead pencil, not sharpened. The team in the "infield" are all placed in their accustomed positions as in the actual game, except that the three basemen remain on the bases instead of "playing off."

The operator or "manager" of the field team stands beside the table nearest first base, and reaching his arm over the back of the pitcher, places his right hand beside his spoon pitcher, the marble in his hand. The manager of the team at bat, putting one of his men in the batsman's box at home plate, stands on the other side of the field from his opponent and places his right hand, grasping the bat, in front of his player.

THE RULES. Then the game begins and the actual rules are followed closely. A fair ball may act as umpire, or the manager may agree easily enough on decisions, for few will be found uncomfortably close or uncertain. The pitcher places his right hand well, because the pitcher is so near that he is allowed to strike at each delivery. A clear ball is thrown to the nearest fielder. If the marble hits the broad side of this box when pitched, a "strike" is called. If it shoots over or beside the box, it is a "ball." Four balls, as in the real game, entitle the batsman to his base. There are no "foul strikes" in spoon baseball, but when a ball touches the bat and rolls foul the fielder nearest the point where it stops is rolled from his position toward it, and if he touches it, the batsman is "out." A fair hit that knocks over a fielder is a "home run." If the fielder rolls further from the plate than does the ball, and it scores a fly caught. When a fair hit is met by no fielder, or when it strikes one or goes beyond him, the one nearest where it stops is rolled toward it, and if he touches it, the batsman is "out." A fair hit that knocks over a fielder is a "home run." If the fielder rolls further from the plate than does the ball, and it scores a fly caught. When a fair hit is met by no fielder, or when it strikes one or goes beyond him, the one nearest where it stops is rolled toward it, and if he touches it, the batsman is "out." Cheers Up Disappointed Admirers of Cubs in a Novel Manner.

The scene was in Fred Pfeffer's cafe, and the first actor was a little man, thin and dressed, with half a face on. He was gloomy, dejected and disappointed, his face broken over the defeat of the Cuts. The full force of the thing was sinking in upon him. He was trying to figure out how team which, on paper, ranks first in the American league could wallow in a team which outclassed all the other teams in the National league. His gloom pervaded the entire cafe. Pfeffer stood shaking his head, muttering to himself and mourning. Pfeffer came along and said

"Cheer up!"

"I can't," said the little man. "I feel like a dog."

"Well," remarked Fred, "why don't you act like a dog then?"

"I'll do that," said the little man. He backed out of the door and, an instant later, came crawling under the swinging doors on hands and knees.

"NOW BARK."

"Now bark," said Pfeffer.

"Bow wow, wow!" barked the little man, dismally.

"Then get down and p'a dog."

The big man went out, crawled under the swinging door, barked, played dead, rolled over and begged.

REAL ESTATE.

ANOTHER RHYME ON Foot Hill Park

There is no use you standing there
And blocking up the way;
If you have not the cash to spare
Just call some other day.

We're all too busy 'tending those
Who want to buy today;
We've got so many sales to close,
Just call some other day.

If you can't make the right arrangement,
And cannot see your way
To buy a lot on small installments,
Just call some other day.

If you're too slow to see a chance
Of getting a home that way
And want to wait till prices advance,
Just call some other day.

But if you're wise and know what is What,
There's just one thing we'll say:
At Foot Hill Park just buy a lot,
Don't wait for another day.

Get busy at once and buy a lot.
Just see to this today;
Foot Hill Park is the name of the spot,
Don't wait for another day.

$10,000,000 FOR SEATTLE FAIR

Every State in Union Will Have Building at Exposition in June, 1909.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Considering the Chicago Columbia Exposition of 1932 a criterion of what world fairs ought to be, General James B. Metcalf, of Seattle, Wash., a representative of the Alaska-Yukon-Pacific Exposition to be held in 1909 in Seattle is here getting pointers on how to launch a world's fair.

General Metcalf says the Seattle business men raised $700,000 cash to promote the fair. The fair will represent an outlay of approximately $10,000,000. It will occupy 250 acres bordering on Lake Washington. The gate will open June 1, 1909.

"Nearly every State in the Union, Illinois among them, has promised to erect a state building," said General Metcalf last night. "It seems like an exaggeration maybe, but the intention is to eclipse all previous attempts at world's fairs."

BOMB THROWER KILLED.
MOSCOW, Nov. 12.—A bomb was thrown at Mayor Reinbot, on Tver street at 11 o'clock this morning. Reinbot, who was not hurt, pulled his revolver and shot and killed the man who threw the bomb.

FATAL BULLET FINDS GROOM

Young Man Shot Within Fifteen Minutes After He Marries.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Fifteen minutes after he had married Maria Einstein in Brooklyn, Augustus Silvestro, twenty years old, was fatally shot in his home where he was celebrating his wedding. He died at midnight last night at the Sweeney hospital with his bride at his side.

The shooting was done by six unknown Italians, who entered the room and started a row. It is suspected that a rival instigated the murder, and the police are looking for this man, who is known. Pedro Depalino, a wedding guest, was seriously wounded during the melee.

The Hoag Automatic Printing Press will be removed to San Francisco, and the company will locate permanently at 440 Golden Gate avenue.

For the next three days and Thursday evening the people of Oakland will have an opportunity of seeing the greatest invention of the age, and the public is cordially invited to call and see the same in operation at 437 Tenth street.

SAIL FROM HONOLULU TO SAVE GASPIE MURDERER

Relations of Siemsen on High Seas—
Prisoner Visited in Cell by Women,
Who Leave Him Flowers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—Relatives of John Siemsen, leader of the Gaspié murderers, have sailed from Hawaii for San Francisco to engage counsel and otherwise assist in his defense.

Siemsen had already heard of their coming from Hawaiian friends when seen in his cell at the Bush-street station last night.

"I do not know what good they can do," he said, "but I'll let them do what they please. It's years since I've spoken of any of my relatives or family, but I'll be glad to see them, even though it is only through the bars of a cell."

Siemsen throughout the afternoon affected to be as debaucher and buoyant as usual.

The dumps into which he was plunged on Saturday had disappeared, and while Louis Dabner, his accomplice, had a far-away look and acted as though aching for human sympathy, Siemsen was receiving callers and practicing his avowed philosophy of making the best of things.

A certain class of women are beginning to take an interest in Siemsen, and before his trial it is promised from superficial summary that he will develop into an object of misplaced feminine sentiment.

WOMEN GIVE FLOWERS.
A dozen or more persons called on him yesterday out of pure curiosity, and at least half of these were women. Three women gave him flowers and went out of their way to offer him sympathy.

"I don't know any of these dames," he said after they were gone, "but they all spoke nicely to me. One of them said she was Maria Wihinger, a missionary worker, and that she thought I shouldn't pass a Sunday without being put in mind of prayer. I think she said she came from the Penitentiary Mission, but I didn't pay much attention to it at the time. She was comforting to talk to."

"Talking about prayer, I don't go much on it. I have my soft spots like other men, though, and am not the feelingless person that some are trying to make me out."

"A lot of wrong things are being said about me. I realize that it is useless to protest—that I'm bound to get the worst of it once I'm placed in the position I now am," said the weakening criminal. "I think it would be a little better for me to try to behave, if more truth about me was told. My career, like every man's career, was an accident. I'm what I am from no inherent fault. You can talk as much as you like about early influence and all that kind of thing, but I don't believe in it. I'm not trying to excuse myself in saying this. I'm simply explaining."

"The stories that are going around as to why I did this and why I did that have no foundation in fact. I simply slipped into this place like another man slips into a pulpit or a berth in a railroad shop or behind a plow out in the fields. It all had to happen, and I'm reconciled to everything. I've never boasted of holding up men or killing them. Why should I?

PASSES IT UP TO DABNER.
"As I've said before, I always knew that I would eventually be caught once I continued in following up the game that landed me here. Dabner used to try and make me believe that it was simply a matter of cleverness to escape arrest. I always used to tell him he was wrong and that cleverness had nothing to do with it. The man who breaks rules framed by other men stakes out a claim for himself that can't be worked."

"The whole thing with me was this: I wanted something that I didn't have and made up my mind to have it no matter who suffered. I'll admit this was selfish, but I didn't care anything about that end of it. My business was to get what I wanted. I wasn't a great while away from home before I made up my mind to risk everything on the turn of a dice, and I did that continually until I landed here. I have nothing to complain about. I had a long run for my money and if I had been more lucky I'd be still playing the game."

"I have blamed some people for the deal they gave my father and other relatives, but that's only natural. They were wrong, and I deserve to get the books for what they did, but they couldn't help it any more than I could help what I did. It was all to happen."

OPINION OF CHINESE.
"When I was in China I learned to respect the natives there for the way they look at things. They were accidents, they told me, and events ruled everything. I learned to know before now how well they reasoned."

"Of course, I would like to have been different. There are a lot of men who would like to be president of the United States in the same way. They never will, and they're unwise to let themselves be troubled about it further."

"A year from now nobody will be thinking about me unless they happen to be reading the book of my life that I'm now writing."

There is an uneven, illogical strain in Siemsen's talk. He rattles off a seemingly outspoken way and one is just at the point of believing the prisoner is growing unaffectionately confidential when he drops a phrase or sentence that shatters all previously formed conceptions of him.

"He's the queerest and slickest criminal I've ever caught," is the police estimate of the man's character.

Since making confession about his father, who committed suicide after losing two fortunes in Pearl City, he is not inclined to go into his family history in detail or his experience in Hawaii.

ROYALTY AT ROYAL HOME FOR DEFENSE

King Haakon, Queen Maud and Crown Prince Olaf in England.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—King Haakon, Queen Maud and Crown Prince Olaf of Norway, who arrived at Spithead last night on board the British royal yacht Victoria and Albert, landed at Portsmouth this afternoon. A state visit to King Edward and Queen Alexandra, with whom they will spend a week at Windsor Castle.

A series of festivities has been arranged for the entertainment of visitors, including a state banquet and a luncheon at the Guild hall. The Prince of Wales welcomed King Haakon and Queen Maud in behalf of King Edward, after which the royal party landed, amid salutes from the flag-dressed warships and the land batteries, and took a train for Windsor.

On arriving there the visitors were met by King Edward and Queen Alexandra and most of the royal family, including the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, who had spent the week-end as guests of William Waldorf Astor at Cliveden. The route was lined with troops and the royal travelers received a splendid welcome from the inhabitants of the borough, the baby carriage prince coming in for a full share of the popular plaudits.

MILLIONS FOR DEFENSE

Chief of Engineers Reports to Uncle Sam Cost of Fortifications.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—General Andrew MacKenzie, chief of engineers, has reported to the secretary of war that $16,052,431 will be required to complete the engineer work upon the fortifications projected by the board convened under the president's order of January 31, 1905. During the year the number of guns available for service was increased by the addition of eight mortars, four twelve-inch guns and ninety-four rapid-fire guns, so that altogether the status of the emplacements for which congress has appropriated funds was 876 twelve-inch mortars, 105 twelve-inch guns, 133 ten-inch guns, ninety-nine eight-inch guns and 587 rapid-fire guns.

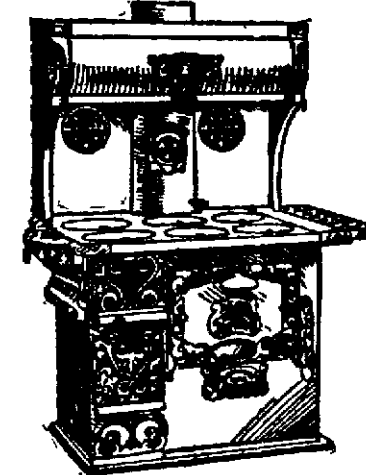

For continuing the construction of gun and mortar batteries an estimate of $4,247,000 is submitted for modernizing old emplacements, $342,500, and for fire control engineers' works, $1,564,824. For the purchase of sites for fortifications to carry out the plans of the defense board an estimate of $3,010,500 is submitted and for searchlights and connections, $2,987,700; for preservation and repair of fortifications, $300,000; supplies for seacoast defenses, $40,000; seawalls and embankments, $234,315; preservation and repair of torpedo structures, $50,000; submarine mines, $1,552,818; construction of batteries insular possessions, $2,303,000 ($250,000 going to Guantamo bay, $350,000 to Honolulu and Pearl Harbor, Hawaii; $344,000 to Suva Bay, P. I. and $1,359,000 to Manila, P. I.; fire control at batteries in these stations, $752,530; fortification sites, Hawaiian Islands, $276,100; submarine mines, insular possessions, $382,500).

General MacKenzie states that the following amounts stated among others can be profitably expended during the next fiscal year in the principal river and harbor works as follows:

Deep water harbor, San Pedro Bay, Calif., $192,500; Columbia river, between the foot of the Dalles and the head of Celilo Falls, $550,000; canal at the Cascades, $105,000; Columbia and Lower Willamette rivers, below Portland, $450,000; mouth of the Columbia, $1,000,000; Honolulu harbor, Hawaii, $400,000; Mississippi river (commission's estimates), head of passes to the mouth of the Ohio, with salaries of commissioners, $3,000,004.

Self Basting Savory Roaster Free With Every Range Sold This Week

The great feature of the savory roaster is the OVAL bottom. The juice of the meat flows to the center of the pan, where it is turned into steam; this steam is again absorbed by the meat; therefore, it is thoroughly basted with its own juices, thus retaining all the essence of the roast so much lost with the ordinary roaster. It is made of planished steel and is seamless. Easily cleaned and kept clean. No seams, no corners. Its value is $3.00. We gave this roaster away once before with ranges, and the only fault was the fact that we did not have enough.

STRIKE VOTE IS INEVITABLE

Erie Railway Men, However,
Will Receive Any Counter
Propositions.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—Grand Chief Hannahan of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, in speaking last night of the strike vote now being taken by the Erie firemen, whose demands were refused by the railroad officials, said: "From my observations at this end of the line, I am certain that the vote for a strike will be unanimous. It is not usual to make public the fact that a poll on the question of a strike is to be taken, but we think it only fair to shippers and others whose interests would be affected by a strike, should a strike be decided, they know exactly how matters stand, so as to be prepared."

"We have not been looking for a strike, but anyone who knows the hours of work on the railroads, and the long strain on the men, coupled with the low wages, will realize that our demands are very moderate. We want to be as fairly treated as men in other vocations."

Among the railroad men at the Grand Central hotel, where the union conferences are in progress, the hope is expressed that the Erie company will avoid trouble by making a counter proposition. Such a proposal, it was said, would receive due consideration and would be replied to, even though a strike vote was in and had been counted. There will be numerous conferences this week by the engineers and firemen of the Lackawanna, New York Central, New York, New Haven & Hartford and the Central railroad of New Jersey.

It was stated on Saturday that Grand Chief Stone would leave for his home in Cleveland yesterday. He was still at the Hotel Belmont last night, and it was announced that it had been determined that he would remain here indefinitely. Assistant Grand Chief Hurley also will remain on the ground.

KING OF GREECE TO VISIT ITALY'S RULER

ROME, Nov. 12.—The Vatican authorities, through the archbishop of Athens have officially acquiesced to the King of Greece visiting King Victor Emmanuel November 23 and remaining here four days. If King George desires to see the Pope the latter will willingly accede to his request and will follow with the same ceremonial as observed at the time of the visit of King Edward, but as Greece has no diplomatic representative to the Vatican, King George will go from the Quirinal Palace to the Hellenic Legation, credited to the Quirinal, starting from there in a private carriage. His visit will be received with royal honors at the Vatican.

of the funny men (pa-rag-ra-phers, they call them) remarks that, when the office seeks the man, it very often happens that his wife seeks him, too, without being able to locate him. Well, it must not be inferred that the man is trying to elude either the office or his wife. He is merely self-absorbed. After election day he will be discovered in his office, either public or private, hearing up how much it cost him to sequester himself from his family and his business, and whether the game was worth the powder. And in the meanwhile, we get busy at Lehnhardt's because the palladium of liberty does not interest us at this particular moment.
